Civil Rights Commission Plans Active Campaign under New Head

Princeton's four-year-old Joint Commission on Civil Rights will get a new, full time executive director May 1 and will immediately begin a vigorous new equal employment opportunity campaign which has a four-month target for completion.

The new director is Joan Hill. Princeton - born, Princeton - raised, she's a Princeton High graduate (1959) and she'll celebrate her 32nd birthday three weeks after sitting down at her new 4 Green Street desk.

"This office is a place to come and talk about your grievances," she explains.

In a note to the community, she goes on to announce that she will be visiting homes, offices, schools and places of business to talk with people and "get your feelings on all phases of civil liberties."

The Civil Rights office at 4 Green (the side door of the Princeton Youth Center building) has been closed for four months because the Commission had no director after William Fitch resigned to join the Borough police force. Max Blumenfeld, chairman of the Commission, has been filling in without pay.

Now, the office is open again and ready for business.

During those four months, the ten Commission members worked on a tight, strong new program. As Mr. Blumenfeld explains it, both Borough and Township governments, short on dollars, wanted a solid justification for a Civil Rights Commission, although "there was never a question of abandoning the Commission."

Incidentally, Miss Hill herself was a Civil Rights member, appointed last June as a Borough representative, and her assumption of the paid, working directorship leaves a Borough vacancy on the Commission.

She has been involved in community work all her life, returning here after graduation from Central State University in Wilberforce, Ohio, to become receptionist-secretary at the Princeton YWCA.

She is a Youth Center board member, on day-care committees for the YWCA and Council of Community Services, and is a member of the new Afro-American League, formed quietly last year to promote solidarity in Princeton's black community.

"We felt that employment deserved top priority," she says, "many people in the John Street-Witherspoon Street area are either under-employed or actually unemployed."

But employment has many facets.

"For example, the foreign girls who come here to work in private homes often suffer outrageous discrimination," Miss Hill says. "They'll be promised a day off and not get it, or be given a verbal promise they can use the family car, and have the promise denied. And of course, they may not be getting the insurance and sick-leave and so on, to which they're entitled, under law."

One classic problem is the

Kopp Apartments Given Partial ,3-2 Approval

By a 3-2 vote that crossed party lines, Township Committee Monday night gave Edward C. Kopp permission to build apartments in a single-family zone off Terhune Road.

But by the same 3-2 tally, Committee cut back Mr. Kopp's hoped-for 33 apartments to 28. Mr. Kopp himself is away on vacation, but his attorney, A. C. Reeves Hicks, after a long-distance telephone conference with his client, said he had "no choice" but to accept the cut-back.

Mayor Jay Bleiman and Committeeman Abbot Low Moffat voted against giving Mr. Kopp permission. That made "yes" votes from Committee members Barbara Smoyer, Sanford C. Reynolds Jr. and William Sutphin. The same three votes favored Mr. Sutphin's amendment restricting the number of units to 28.

It was an evening of backing, filling and maneuvering, after Mrs. Smoyer introduced a resolution favoring the Kopp plans as "peculiarly suited" to the 2.3-acre plot Mr. Kopp owns. The resolution pointed out that even the Princeton Regional Planning Board, which sent its attorney to argue against the proposal before both Zoning Board and Township Committee, hadn't disputed the suitability of the site for apartments. The resolution emphasized that Committee was not establishing any precedent for subsequent developers in granting approval to Mr. Kopp.

Then Mr. Sutphin, quoting figures on density, proposed an amendment limiting Mr. Kopp to 12 units per acre, or 28 units. Density was a question which hadn't been raised in previous testimony, Mr. Sutphin declared.

Brief Adjournment. His suggested amendment brought proceedings to an abrupt halt. Mr Hicks said this was a wholly new concept, and with Mr. Kopp away, he wasn't sure what action he could take. Committee agreed to adjourn for about 40 minutes so that Mr. Hicks could ponder.

He took that time to call up his client in North Carolina and to confer also with J. Robert Hillier, the proect's architect, and with Karl Light, real estate expert.

When Committee assembled again, Mr. Hicks warned that if Mr. Kopp had to cut back to 28 apartments, he might decide to increase the number of bedrooms and thereby the number of "bodies" in the project. Rents might also have to be raised from the suggested average of $225 a month, or Mr. Kopp could suffer a loss of $1,125 a month in rentals. The developer could have decided on 46 units for his project, Mr. Hicks continued, but had decided 33 would be preferable.

Mr. Sutphin, unconvinced, introduced his amendment. Nobody seconded it. After a minute when no one spoke, Mr. Hicks said he would have "no choice" but to accept the 28 units on behalf of Mr Kopp.

"On that basis, then, I will second the amendment," Mrs. Smoyer said. She, Mr. Sutphin and Mr. Reynolds voted in favor of it, Mayor Bleiman and Mr. Moffat voted "no."

The vote on the entire amended resolution then followed, and Mr. Kopp was in, 3-2.

Minority Report. Mr Moffat read a lengthy statement, with which Mayor Bleiman concurred, explaining his "no" vote. The Kopp tract was not, in his view, so uniquely located that apartments there would serve the general welfare.

Most important, granting Mr. Kopp permission will "substantially impair the intent and purpose of the zone plan." Mr. Moffat declared. He defined the zone plan as including zoning ordinance and Master Plan, and observed that the present Master Plan does not allow construction of apartments built for private profit. Even a single exception, he said, would violate the intent. He pointed out that the restriction against private apartments is a temporary one, awaiting decision of the Planning Board's housing committee on a new overall housing policy for a new, community-wide Master Plan.

"It is unfortunate that Mr. Kopp pressed the matter now, rather than waiting for the housing report," Mayor Bleiman said.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mr. Hicks commented on the Planning Board's opposition to the Kopp project. The planners wanted developments held in abeyance until the housing committee report.

Mr. Hicks questioned the propriety of using tax money to pay for opposing a taxpayer's project.

HOUSING TO BE DELAYED

By Environmental Study. Opponents of the Township's public housing project have persuaded Housing and Urban Development officials in Camden to require the kind of major environmental study normally done only for massive construction projects like prisons or highways.

"Such an unprecedented, costly and time-consuming study has never been conducted by the HUD Camden Area office for any housing project," declared Karin Slaby, executive director of the Princeton Housing Authority, in reference to the new requirement. She and members of the Authority are asking supporters of the Princeton project to write James T. Lynn, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D.C. 20410, and to Senators and Congressman Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen.

Township Mayor Jay Bleiman said he had conferred on Monday with Richard Fish bough, director of development for HUD's Camden office, explaining that the project's developer, Benedict Yedlin, hasn't yet gone through Princeton's own required environmental site plan review, and suggesting that Federal officials not duplicate this effort, "but work with us."

"He agreed, and promised to come to Princeton and discuss the idea," Mayor Bleiman said, "although he told Mrs. Slaby HUD wants to do its own study. He also assures me that this is not an effort to kill the Yedlin project.

"I gather HUD people want to be sure that in the event of litigation against the project, they can be shown to have done all their homework. They are very sensitive to opposition."

Mayor Bleiman cited the volume of mail sent by Princeton residents to Washington when the Federal freeze on subsidized housing was announced. He said he doubted that HUD people in Camden ever saw these letters and therefore did not realize the depth of support for the Yedlin project in the Princeton community.

A HUD directive, early in March, indicated that projects like Mr. Yedlin's, whose developers had already made substantial commitments, would be allowed to proceed.

"The Princeton Housing Authority and concerned citizens are asking the community for its support to encourage HUD to proceed in accordance with its original commitment to help provide low income housing in our community," a Housing Authority statement said, citing the new order as "a new and alarming delay."

FOR CIVIL RIGHTS: Joan Hill will become the new executive director of the Joint Commission on Civil Rights on May 1. Max Blumenfeld, chairman of the Commission, is shown in conference with Miss Hill.

Civil Rights Campaign

woman who doesn't make the required Social Security deductions from a domestic worker's pay.

Increasingly, during the four years of its existence, the Civil Rights office has found people turning to it for a variety of human problems.

One woman, for example, telephoned in great indignation because police had given her a ticket for overtime parking in front of her own house. She lived in a two-hour zone. Police had marked her car to time its stay at the curb. Was this legal? Sadly, yes.

"We just can't fix parking tickets," sighs Mr. Blumenfeld.

Most of the complaints taken to the Civil Rights Commission concern housing discrimination. And it isn't always racial discrimination.

"These two young men — they were white — were renting an apartment," Mr. Blumenfeld smiles. "Well, they let dishes pile up in the sink — you know. And they said the landlady was harassing them about being dirty, and because one of them took his girl-friend to the apartment. Well, sometimes you just have to talk these things out. . ."

Discrimination can be sex-linked, and increasingly, Miss Hill has observed, single girls are finding that landlords discriminate against them.

Broken Agreement. A divorcee with two children suddenly found that the house she had agreed to rent was "no longer available." It would be too hard for a woman living alone to do things like fix faucets, she was told. The woman lived outside Princeton and the house was outside Princeton, so the Civil Rights Commission helped her file a complaint with the state, because such sex discrimination is against state law.

In straightforward cases of racial discrimination — the girl room-mates, one black and one white, who also found that their new apartment was "no longer available"—Princeton's fair-housing ordinances work fairly well, but as Mr. Blumenfeld points out, the state doesn't allow a municipality to have injunctive powers.

"We can't say to a landlord, you can't rent this place until the case is cleared up!"

At the moment, other groups in town are working on housing, so the Civil Rights Commissioners decided to focus on employment.

Under Miss Hill's direction, they will do a survey to find out how much un-employment and under-employment actually exists. ("Under - employment," explains Miss Hill, "could mean somebody in the same job for ten years without promotion or a raise. . .")

Surveys Planned. Employers and businesses will then be surveyed to find out the percentages of minorities and women employed, and whether employers are willing to consider things like maternity leaves, part-time jobs and so on.

Is there a need for "Affirmative Action" programs? What training facilities exist? What kinds of jobs do people want? What training do they need?

Throughout, the executive director will meet with the Personnel Association, with NOW, with the Parham Group, which works in the field of minority employment, and will help in the education of the business community through lectures, workshops, and seminars in which laws on discrimination are explained.

But laws, the Commission has found in its four years, are sometimes not even needed as weapons.

"Talking and conciliation solve many problems which are sometimes just misunderstandings," Mr. Blumenfeld says, "and often, there is, legally nothing you can do. For instance, in the absence of any rent control, all you can do is talk to the landlord. And it's a hassle to send people off to Trenton . . . we prefer conciliation anyway to hitting people over the head."

Both Mr. Blumenfeld and Miss Hill hope the new employment program can succeed through co-operation and conciliation.

It's a big project: can one full-time director do it all?

"Each of the ten Commissioners will take on responsibility for a specific area," explains Mr. Blumenfeld, "and will work closely with Joan Hill. We want a WORKING Commission."

The Civil Rights Commission is funded jointly by Borough and Township and has a current budget of about $12,000. It pays no rent (the Youth Center building is Borough-owned) and Miss Hill, with a salary of $9,000, is the only paid empoyee.

BROWN WON'T APPEAL

But Will File Federal Action. Len Brown, Princeton Youth Center director, has decided not to appeal the decision of an East Brunswick magistrate last week that he was guilty of disorderly conduct and assault in the February 25 incident in a Howard Johnson's turnpike restaurant.

He will, however, file suit in Federal court under the Federal civil rights act. This action will probably be taken before summer, Mr. Brown said this week.

"I decided not to appeal because I think the real issue is the beating — the incident with the state police," he said, "the disorderly conduct and assault aren't as important."

"I would certainly like the people of this community to know I really appreciate the help they've been willing to provide," the Youth Center director said, "the money for my defense fund, the letters and the words of encouragement are more than overwhelming— I just can't believe it."

WANT A GARAGE?

Maybe, for Nursery School. Tiger Garage, whose snorting, early - rising vehicles have plagued Birch Avenue residents for many years, is on the market, and buses will be out of the garage and into new headquarters in Monroe Township by the end of June.

The two Quonset-hut structures have potential as a home for the Princeton Nursery School, observed Township Mayor Jay Bleiman this week, although Tiger's price-tag is $175,000. The mayor revealed that both Borough and Township had explored purchase of the garage for a nursery school last year, but found it too expensive.

The Valley Road building is still a possibility for the Nursery School. Representatives of Borough Council and Township Committee have been invited by the school board to tour the school building and make some recommendations on how it might be used.

"We're delighted that the school board has taken this initiative," Mayor Bleiman said at his monthly press conference. He added that he had always regarded the Tiger garage as a "blemish" and felt that a strong argument could be made for municipal purchase of the properly.

SET 'EM UP!

Bars Can Stay Open. Township bars can stay open until 2 a.m. week-nights, but tavern-owners are warned to keep down the noise.

Committee voted 4-1 Monday night, William Sutphin disapproving, to allow the later closing times. Mr. Sutphin said he wasn't convinced that the additional two hours were in the interests of the general public.

Noise, such as the sound of happy customers leaving at closing-time can be controlled by the Township's anti-noise ordinance observed attorney Gordon Griffin. Inside noise like top volume juke-boxes or even air conditioners, could be controlled by tavern - owners, Committee members observed.

"The Township will try to keep this ordinance from being abused to the disadvantage of Township residents," said Mayor Jay Bleiman. He asked tavern owners to co-operate.

Political Slates Fill as Thursday Deadline Nears

Once you're elected and you taste the sweet taste of all that power, you don't mind running again. But talking people into running for the first time. . . .

Incumbents in both Borough and Township are going for re-election. Township Mayor Jay Bleiman confirmed this week that he will run for a second three-year term on the Democratic ticket. His colleague, Republican Sanford C. Reynolds, will probably run against him.

Borough Councilman Martin P. Lombardo was the first to declare publicly that he will run again. The Democratic Councilman will seek his second three-year term. Councilman Joseph P. Moore, also a Democrat, will run again, also.

In the Borough, Republicans have selected two newcomers to the political scene. They will run Mrs. Margen Penick of Elm Lane and Robert E. Pols, 145 Ewing Street. Mrs. Penick served as chairman of the Township Open Space Commission when she lived in that municipality. Mr. Pols is an investment adviser.

Mayor Bleiman's running mate, for the one-year seat available on Committee, will be Mrs. Ellen Peterson. She is a member of the Township Board of Health and the Intergovernmental Drug Committee. The Republicans haven't announced their second member of the Township ticket to join Mr. Reynolds.

Filing deadline is 4 p.m. Thursday.

JUVENILE IS ARRESTED

Charged With Assaulting Officer. A 6-3, 15-year-old Township juvenile has been taken to the Mercer County Youth House after he was arrested Monday and charged with assaulting a Borough patrolman.

According to police, the youth, accompanied by his 13-year-old brother, whom he felt police were "picking on," started to use loud and offensive language against Ptl. Robert Mucciarelli on Nassau Street. He began to poke his finger at the officer and then is alleged to have struck him in the chest.

When Ptl. Mucciarelli informed him that he was under arrest, he fled across Nassau Street onto the University campus, where he was apprehended by the pursuing officer and Ptl. Ronald Holliday. After being processed by Juvenile Officer Douglas Watson, the youth was sent to the County Youth House.

FLIM-FLAM FAILS

Woman Calls Police. The attempted flim-flam of a middi aged Princeton woman last week in the Princeton Shopping Center by two young women failed when the intended victim said she had to go home. When she arrived, she immediately notified the police who later searched the area with her but without success.

The woman told this story: She has been approached by a young woman who claimed she had found $a600 in the Center area and wanted to share it with someone. A short time later, another young woman appeared. After a long conversation, the Princeton resident was asked to put up enough money for 60 days' living expenses, after which the three would split the money equally.

Police said that the intended victim became leery and told the two that she had to go home right away. The two women were described as

SEVEN ARE FINED

In Township Court. Seven Princeton area residents were fined last week by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. in Township court.

Patrick J. Davis, 17, 32 Stetson Way, was fined $40 and had his license revoked for 30 days for reckless driving. He also paid $16 each on charges of no registration and no license.

Russell Pattison, 27, Northgate, Cranbury, and Jeffrey R. Lowe, 26, 115 Princeton Arms, Cranbury, each paid $15 for careless driving. For a stop-sign violation, Charles M. Fiscarra, 24, Burnt Hill Road, Skillman, was fined $15, while Janet Levy, 36, 405 Terhune Road, and Richard Guzy, 18, 14 Canoe Brook Drive, paid $12 for the same offense.

In a criminal charge, Faye B. Greco of 47 University Place, was fined $25 for assault. She pleaded guilty.

In Borough court Monday, John H. Pannell, 74, 181 Witherspoon Street, pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and was fined $30. A second charge of careless driving, which he denied, cost him $15.

Donald R. Quick, 23, 129 Jefferson Road, was fined $15 for a red light infraction.

HEARING POSTPONED

On Township Offices. Because of a clerical error, public hearing on the request to construct an office building at the Valley-Harrison intersection couldn't be held before the Township Zoning Board last Thursday. It has been rescheduled for Thursday, May 17.

Mrs. Joseph Dorgan, 54 Oak land, told the Zoning Board she had not received the legally-required notice of the hearing. She declined to waive her right to receive the notice, and so the hearing was postponed.

The applicants, Dr. Arnold Hirsch and Dr. Robert Albahary, want to construct a pair of two-story office buildings on the 2.3 acre plot, which has frontage on Ewing as well as on Harrison and Valley. About two dozen neighbors of the area appeared Thursday before the Zoning Board for the hearing. Petitions opposing the project have been circulating in the neighborhood.

OK, Scupper. In other matters, the board decided to recommend that Township Committee allow Rusty Scupper patrons to park on land in an Education Zone land owned by Princeton University, plus a sliver of Penn Central property. Approval is contingent on proof that the state approves fill work now being done in what is the flood hazard area.

The Zoning Board action will transfer Scupper parking from previously approved parking space belonging to the Princeton Car Wash.

The board approved Westminster Choir College's request to have cars park in a residential zone lot.

The request for a special home - occupation permit by Salvatore Concilio was withdrawn when Mr. Concilio wrote the board that he is selling the 173 Mansgrove Road property involved.

PRINCETON REGIONAL SCHOOL AGENDA

School Board's May 1 Agenda

The board will meet at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in Community Park School. The April meeting date fell during the week of spring vacation, so the board decided to meet twice during May. Agenda items:

— Unless a blizard strikes, schools will use their snow-day for an extra day of holiday during the Memorial Day weekend. Schools will be closed Friday, May 25.

— The board will give final approval to the choir trip.

— Next year's calendar will be approved.

— Revised high school disciplinary guidelines, which include longer suspensions for more serious problems, will be discussed.

— The progress report on switching the Middle School will announce that Valley Road's gym, playing fields and four classrooms will be used by about 150 high school freshmen and sophomores. Staff relocation will be completed by the end of May.

— Bus routes will be changed (and money saved: four routes will be eliminated) as a result of the Middle School switch, and specific street changes will be announced Tuesday.

— The Middle School change will cost $109,700 in capital outlay, the board will announce. ($31,000 is moving the bubble).

— The board will discuss a revision in foreign - language study involving a shift from structured third-fourth-fifth-grade French to a program with additional languages and varied approaches.

Full - time positions in driver-ed. and homebound teaching will be discussed and the board will vote on a "permanent substitute" policy. One "base" position will be filled in each of these three categories, with part-timers hired as needed.

CANDIDATES NAMED

By West Windsor Democrats. One incumbent, a former Township Committeeman, and two newcomers to West Windsor politics are the Democratic ticket in this year's elections.

Mrs. Eleanor B. Dearborn, Scott Avenue, Princeton Junction, will seek a second four-year term as tax assessor. Running with her as Democratic candidates for Township Committee are William A. Stuart, a member of the Committee from 1965 to 1968, and Peter J. Flatow. Mrs. Anita Mount is the Democrats' choice for Tax Collector.

Hugh Borton, president of the West Windsor Democratic Club, headed the ten-person screening committee which presented the candidates at the Club's monthly meeting, Monday.

Mrs. Dearborn, a West Windsor resident for more than 20 years, was elected Tax Assessor in 1969. In 1971, she completed Rutgers University courses and successfully passed the State exams to be a certified Assessor. Although now devoting full-time to her assessing work in the rapidly growing Township, Mrs. Dearborn had 15 years experience in the real estate field, mostly with Walter B. Howe, Inc. of Princeton. Hear It Growing?

Grass to tall
It looks like hay?
That means it's Almost time for May!

Grass needs rain to grow, and believe it or not, we went 15 day without measurable precipitation until Monday's rainfall. More is due Thursday, the Man reports, and the grass will react accordingly.

Friday also holds a possibility of showers, but a pleasantly mild, sunny weekend is in store. If it materializes that would make two in a row.

Bottles Up!

Almost intoxicated with excitement, Township Engineer Joseph Hodak reported Monday night that the most recent salvage week in the Township produced the highest glass bottle total in the entire 26 collection weeks going back to last spring.

"Seven point four tons!" Mr. Hodak said.

Newspapers were only ninth highest in 2 weeks — 11 tons — which isn't too bad. Mr. Hodak shoook his head in response to questions, and said he had never been able to figure out why one week was higher than any other.

"Maybe later tavern closing hours will make a difference in bottle collections," observed Mayor ay Bleiman.

Rent-Control Meeting This Thursday

If you're a Borough landlord or tenant or simply a resident interested in rental problems, you're invited to Borough Hall this Thursday at 8 p.m. to talk it over with the new Housing Advisory Council.

Fred Tyler, chairman of the new group, will preside.

"We'd like people's opinion on rent control, but we're open to discussion of any problems on housing," he said.

Mr Tyler emphasized that the newly formed group is pressed for time because Borough Council wants a report on its first findings by May 8.

A survey of tenants is now under way by telephone. A survey of landlords will be done shortly via the mail.

"We have no built in bias regarding landlords or tenants," Mr. Tyler said.

A recent announcement in the press that tenants with unreasonable rent increases should call Borough Hall, brought little response, Mr. Tyler revealed.

"We hope this Thursday's meeting will change some of that apathy," he added.

Dig That Leaf-Mold!

The ten-foot high mound of leaf mold is almost at ground level now, but still there is so much left that the Township's engineering department is beginning to despair of getting it cleared away by the time the first leaf falls after Labor Day.

The lovely, black, exquisitely decayed old leaf-mold is free for the taking — even to Borough residents. It's just across Route 206 from the paddle-tennis courts. Drive your station-wagon in and fill up the back. Drive your sports car in and take home a garbage bag full. Bring empty garbage cans and fill them up. Bring wheel-barrows. . . anything, but come and take it away.

Besides, warns John Kuser of the Township's Shade Tree Commission, if you don't take it home for your garden, some canny nurseryman will come along, because it's free to him, too, and sell your own leaves right back to you.

PASSENGER HOSPITALIZED

In Head-on Collision. A passenger in a small foreign car was hospitalized with a fractured shoulder and left knee Sat. morning when the car failed to keep right on a curve on Cherry Valley Road and crashed head-on into another.

Jean Isme, 34, 11 Leigh Avenue, as the passenger was teaching Geengain Michaud, 20, of Princeton how to drive. The latter, who had been driving only a month on a learner's permit, failed to stay in his lane as he rounded a curve near the Great Road. His car crashed into the front of a car driven by Jacquelyn Parmele, 42, Rolling Hil Road, Skillman.

Mrs. Parmele was treated at Princeton Medical Center for a bruised jaw. Mr. Michaud, who was ticketed by Ptl. Jerry Offredo for failing to keep right, sustained a laceration of the face and injuries to both knees. Ptl. Offredo reported that Mr. Michaud told him "everything went blank" as he rounded the curve.

The front ends of both cars were extensively damaged. Police described the damage to the Michaud car as total.

OFFICE IS ENTERED

And Ransacked. The real estate offices of Karl M. Light, 247 Nassau Street, were entered and ransacked during the weekend.

Borough police report that the first and second floor offices and four filing cabinets had been rifled. Taken was a Polaroid camera valued at $50. A second floor window had been forced open to gain entry, police said.

From Hinkson's Stationers, 82 Nassau, thieves took $100 from a cash box, leaving behind about $40 in change. The theft took place between 2 p.m. on Sunday and 6:30 Monday morning, when it was discovered.

According to police, the intruder first entered Buxton's Restaurant next door through an unlocked rear door. Then he managed to open a series of doors to reach the counter area of Hinkson's on the main floor.

Dt. Robert McAvenia, who investigated, said that apparently nothing was taken from Buxton's.

Attempted B&E Fails. An attempted entry into the Pink Elephant at 4:19 Thursday morning failed when the sound of breaking glass brought the manager, Brian Shannon, who had been working in the rear of the store.

Lt. Theodore Lewis reported that a plate glass front window had been broken but the would-be thief ran off when he realized that there was someone inside.

Albert Simpson, 13 Maclean Street, lost $8 when someone purse from the front seat of took a brown leather change his taxi, which he had parked in front of his house.

Edward Dunzelman of Fords lost a .45 caliber pistol, some ammunition and a box of tools from the trunk of his car parked on Nassau Street near Olden. Mr Dunzelman, who told police he had been shooting at a range, placed the theft between 3 and 8 Saturday morning. There were no signs of forced entry, police said. Total value of the missing items: $175.

In the Township, James Billington, 6 McCosh Circle, called police to report that the carburetor, generator and distributor cap from his VW bus had been stolen during the night while it had been parked in the drive adjacent to his home. The parts were valued at $220.

A new engine, he said, had been installed three months ago. The engine compartment was not lockable, he added.

Eighteen long-playing records worth $78.60 were shoplifted last week from Center Stationers in the Princeton Shopping Center.

A clerk told police that a man had been looking at the records. When he left, she no-

IT'S RAGTIME

With "Scott Joplin," Joshua Rifkin, the pianist who revived the piano rags of Scott Joplin, will present an evening of Joplin's works at McCarter on Saturday, May 12 at 8 p.m.

Rifkin is a professor of music at Brandeis, and has a master's degree in music from Princeton. His two recordings of Joplin's piano rags have been national best-sellers.

Joplin himself lived in the last years of the 19th century, and was the most famous composer of piano rags of his era. "Maple Leaf Rag" is his. Ragtime originated in the late 1890s and reached its peak around 1910.

THE FUTURE IS HERE

In "Future Schlock," The holocaust of the 1990s, complete with film clips and sound-tracks, will be part of "Future Schlock," the 1973 Triangle Club production scheduled to open next Thursday (May 3) at McCarter.

Included in the 30 sketches will be a "History of Aviation" as deciphered by 21st-century man, and "Peace in Our Time," an unruly dinner-gathering of international dignitaries.

"Future Schlock" will be repeated Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5, with a 2:30 Saturday matinee.

FROM HARAMBEE

"Prisoners." Dancing, singing and the poetry of poets now serving jail sentences — will be featured in "Prisoners," the annual production of Harambee House, the black theatre group at Princeton University.

"Prisoners" will be given Sunday, May 13 at 8 p.m. in McCarter Theatre. Tickets, at $2, may be ordered at the theatre, 921-8700.

The Ajile Dancers and the Gospel Choir of the Princeton Youth Center will join with the workshops of Harambee players themselves to present the evening. One-act plays and poems, some written by University students, will be on the program. One part of the production will deal with the poetry of people who are now in jail. Some of the prisoners are inmates in Trenton.

The highlight of the evening will be excerpts from the plays of Richard Wesley of the New Lafayette Theatre in Harlem, including portions of his award-winner, "Black Terror."

"THE GONDOLIERS"

In Mid-May. The Gilbert and Sullivan Association dates all the way back to 1969 when a group of Princeton residents revived a group called the Princeton Savoyards.

Now it's 1973, and the G. & S. Association will commemorate the springtime by producing "The Gondoliers" in McCarter Theatre. It will be given Tuesday and Thursday, May 15 and 17.

Lee H. Bristol Jr. will star this year, as he has in the three previous Association productions. His role in "The Gondoliers" is that of the Duke of Plaza-Toro.

Arthur Lithgow, former executive director of McCarter will direct, assisted by choreographer Ruth Kay Walker and David Agler as musical director.

IN THE OPEN AIR

Washington Crossing. The tenth season of summer productions at Washington Crossing State Park (N.J.) in the Open Air Theatre will begin June 27 with "1776," presented by the Neshaminy Players. It will run June 28, 29 and 30 as well. Subsequent shows will be:

"South Pacific;" July 6, 7, 13, 14.

"The Marriage of Figaro;" July 20, 21, 27, 28.

"Macbeth;" August 2, 3, 4.

"The King and I;" August 10, 11, 17, 18.

"Listen to America — An Original Musical;" August 23, 24, 25.

"A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum;" August 30, 31, Sept. 1, 2, 3.

The original musical is by Dr. Gordon Myers of Trenton State College. Presentations will be by various theatre groups in the area including the Princeton Opera Association, the Pennington Players, Shakespeare '70, Prevue Players and Company Unlimited.

Subscribers and patrons tickets, at reduced rates will be available the last week in May. Individual tickets are $2 for adult, and $1 for children under 12. Information may be obtained from Box 1776, Titusville, New Jersey.

"... THE DUKE!" Of Plozo-Toro, of course. He's Lee H. Bristol Jr., from the cast of the Gilbert and Sullivan "Gondoliers" to be given at McCarter May 15 and 17.

8TH GRADERS ON STAGE

In PDS Play Friday. "A Midsummer Night's Dream," by William Shakespeare, will be presented by the Eighth Grade of Princeton Day School in the school auditorium this Friday at 8:15 p.m. Herbert M. Aney, the director, has arranged a version of the play which runs for a little over an hour. The performance is open to the public.

Prominent in the cast are Claude Sherman as Puck, Tammy Pachter as Titania, Carol Katz as Oberon, Monty Brower as Bottom, Sandra Benson as Helena, Abby Carothers as Hermia, Phil Billington as Lysander, and John Lifland as Demetrius.

FOUR PERFORMANCES SET

For "The Mikado" This Weekend. A new production of Gilbert and Sullivan's most popular and bitingly satiric operetta, "The Mikado," will be presented by Wilson College in Princeton this weekend.

Although set in Japan, the show is in fact a zany spoof of the social mores and political institutions of Victorian England. The score is generally considered to be Sullivan's best.

The plot centers around the frantic efforts of Ko-Ko, the Lord High Executioner (played by Stephen Sechrist), to fulfill his monthly quota of decapitations. A poor strolling minstrel, Nanki-Poo (played by David Kluus), volunteers himself as a victim in return for the hand of Ko-Ko's ward and fiancee Yum-Yum (played by Betty Ann Berry) — without revealing that he is in fact the son of the Emperor of Japan (played by Warren Schmaus).

The cast of characters includes the perennial assortment of stock Gilbertian roles, including Grace Walker as the amorous Wagnerian "heavy" Katisha, Jonathan Rose as the pompous bass Pooh-Bah ("The Lord High Everything else"), and Susan Huang as the comic mezzo Pitti-Sing.

The production is directed by Cary Mazer with the assistance of Cathy Gail McAdon, and choreographed by Andrea Oliver. Performances will be conducted by music director Dennis Davenport.

The show will be performed at Wilcox Hall on the Princeton University campus on Thursday through Sunday at 8 p.m. Admission is free. Reservations can be made by calling 452-7898 between 7 and 10 p.m.

HERE COMES ALICE

To Princeton Inn Next Week. The Princeton Inn College Theatre of Princeton University will present Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland", May 3, 4, 5, 10, 11, 12 at 7:30 p.m. and May 6 & 13 at 2 p.m.

The production uses a new stage adaptation by assistant director Robin Dechert and an original musical score composed and directed by Dennis Davenport. The director is Elaine Ober.

Both Ms. Ober's direction and Ms. Dechert's adaptation, which makes use of Carroll's "Alices Adventures Underground" and Martin Gardner's "The Annotated Alice," will stress a purist's interpretation of Carroll's book.

The production will be played in the Princeton Inn College Theatre, Alexander Rd.

OFFERED AT NORDICRAFT

Scandinavian Specialties. Started two years ago by 5 women of Scandinavian origin, Nordicraft, 356 Nassau Street, now has three owners — Berit Marshall, Anne Marie Woodrow and Elsa Granade. The other two have left the Princeton area, but the store maintains its initial purpose of carrying only Scandinavian products.

Nordicraft is divided into four departments — knitting, embroidery, Rya kits and gifts, all of which carry many tempting items. Browsing through the first three, any lover of needlework would find it difficult to decide which project to begin first.

The knitting department offers many delightful Norwegian sweater patterns, all of which have been translated into English. These sweaters are a joy to make as they are done on round needles in a continuous knitting stitch and, then at the end are cut for cardigan fronts and armholes.

If this method of knitting is new to you, Nordicraft has an expert knitter, Charlotte Wenged, in the store on Wednesdays and Fridays to get you started and help with any problems.

Most patterns call for several colors and Nordicraft carries the Triplex wool in a wide range. They also very nicely have some acrylic yarn for those wo can't or don't wish to use wool. A lady's sweater would cost approximately $16 and a man's about $20, about half the cost of a finished model, in addition to the enjoyment of making it.

Summer Suggestion. A new suggestion for the summer is Bianca cotton thread from Sweden for light-weight knits. The yarn comes in 11 colors and there are patterns for crocheting or knitting items such as a white pullover top or an orange child's dress.

The embroidery department carries kits for making bibs, eyeglass cases, bellpulls, table linen and wall hangings, all of which are done in Danish cross stitch. In this method the linen is not stamped, but a diagram is included in which each square equals two threads of the linen. By following this diagram, the embroiderer transfers the pattern to the linen.

Some of the kits offered include a wall hanging of a very gay Noah's ark, $23.50; a bib with a bear riding a scooter, $3.50; and a lovely handbag featuring a garden of flowers, $11.25. Nordicraft has arranged to have items such as bellpulls, handbags, etc. mounted in Denmark if you do not wish to do them yourself, and as they go by air-mail, the waiting time is short.

The Rya department has pillows, wall hangings and rugs from all the Scandinavian countries, and the there is instruction offered with these too. Some of the designs we saw for the pillows or small wall hangings were a soldier, an owl, and flowers. These are readily available in kits and make nice beginning projects, from $14.50.

Make Your Own Rug. However, if you are ready for a large abstract wall hanging or even a rug, you can choose the pattern and have the ...cessories specially ordered. There are so many designs, colors and sizes to choose from that this could become a unique piece, and would make a marvelous family project.

The gift department offers toys, jewelry, material, and household items. We were particularly impressed by the handmade dolls. They have long yellow braids, are very pliable, and have checked dress that can be taken off. ($15.50) There are also bright red and blue wooden soldiers that can be taken apart. These come in several sizes, starting at $2.

If you need a box to give cookies, bread or any other goodie, Nordicraft has enchanting white tin ones with wildflowers. They come in many shapes and sizes for $2-$3. Or for the front step there is a bright green or red mailbox, which is large enough for several magazines. On the front is a french horn and "Post" in large letters, $13.50. The Scandinavian people love pewter and Nordicraft has some lovely vases, candlesticks, cheese servers, mirrors, etc. A most striking two handled porridge server caught our eye. It has a cover to keep the food warm and would be a handsome casserole on any hostesses' table.

The jewelry comes in pewter or silver and includes earrings, pendants and bracelets. An amusing pewter pendant shows Adam and Eve including the snake and apple, $10; and another is a Viking whose clothes are wonderfully detailed $7.

From Norway there are silver pendants with agates. The stones are highly polished, with no two alike. These handsome pendants are hand hammered and can be hung on a chain or a neck ring, $32 and up.

Nordicraft is open Monday through Friday from 10 to 5:30; Saturdays 10 to 4.

Pappagallo Is Back in Town

New this Spring at Hulit's are the bright many-colored Pappagallo shoes that have not been in Princeton for at least a year. The line includes flats, low heels, open sandals, clogs and exercise sandals.

The popular flower flat with petals on the toe of each shoe comes in white, dusty pink, lime green or yellow, and is a perfect mate for summer slacks or skirts. Then there is the polka dot shoe, which is a low heel with white dotted grosgrain ribbon trim. It comes in black patent, navy or green leather. The flats are $20 and the heels $22.26.

The Pappagallo love for color is carried over into the clogs and sandals where in addition to red, white and blue, a bright yellow is available in some styles.

ALL IN THE FAMILY

At Hulit's Shoes. Started three generations ago by the late Warren M. Hulit, his store at 140 Nassau Street, is still a family run business featuring a wide selection of shoes for mother, father and the children.

We saw here the largest selection of clog and clog type shoes in the area. They come in many styles featuring wooden, cork or ruber soles; open toes and even sandals. Sandler has a clog with a high cork sole that comes in red, navy or white leather, or if you prefer a lower sole, there is a clog in gold or green brushed suede. The clogs are $9.95 and up.

Ladies shoes by Airstep, Joyce, Florsheim, Hushpuppy, and Sandler are all at Hulit's, and when they have a shoe in many colors it's because they feel it has a good fit. One such shoe is a classic low heeled pump by Joyce that comes in 7 patent leather colors, $20.

For the third season Hulit's is carrying a popular comfortable shoe by Sandler. It is a clog look slingback with a leather stacked heel that comes in white, navy or red kid, $22. The fashionable spectator is also here in several styles. One we particularly admired is called the Tipper by Florsheim. It has a high stacked heel and comes in navy, red or brown patent leather with a white toe, $26.

Hulit's believes in quality shoes, such as the Stride Rite line for children. Other children's styles include clogs and the Fun Strider arch support sandal. There is no other sandal like this on the market and no matter how many Hulit's orders, they say they always run out early. These sandals have a rubber sole, all leather straps in red, white or tan and come as small as an infants 4.

There is also a wide selection of sneakers for all ages by Keds, Converse, Jack Purcell and Sperry Topsiders, and this year color is predominate. Children's sneakers are available in navy or red checkerboard, while those for the boys have gold or green trim. However, the best seller is still a white one Jack Purcell's tennis sneaker, which reflects one of Princeton's favorite pastimes.

Clark's of England makes comfortable walking shoes for men and women. One style, the Wallabee comes in sand, oakwood or gold suede and in brown, white or leather calf for the men while the women can also choose navy. Other men's shoes at Hulit's are by Bass, Dexter, Florsheim, Hushpuppy and Pedwin.

Any one of the seven full-time sales people at Hulit's can help fit you with the shoe of your choice from 9 to 5 Monday through Friday, or from 9 to 12 on Saturday.

When & why draperies need cleaning.

General soiling:
Dust and dirt accumulate gradually. So much so you may not even notice it. A firm shake of your draperies will make obvious the dust and dirt that has accumulated.

Heating fumes:
All heating systems account for slight acid fumes. These are absorbed by fabrics. Draperies are effected first because of closeness to moisture. This combination weakens fibers, and because of this most manufacturers recommend yearly cleaning.

Sunlight:
The sun has a deteriorating effect on fabrics and colors. Frequent cleaning will reduce this problem.

Sagging:
Natural stretching of fabrics causes puckering of seams, loss of squareness of panels. Adjust-a-Drape can compensate for all of these. And Adjust-a-Drape can even make new draperies look better.

PRESENTATION SET

On Waldensian Church

"The Light Shining in the Darkness," a Fred and June Dale production will be presented by the Princeton Chapter of the American Waldensian Aid Society in the auditorium of Princeton Seminary's campus center this Monday, at 4:30 p.m. The 40-minute presentation is open to the public.

This story of the Italian Waldensian Church, from its beginnings in the 800's to the present day, features the project's slogan "Evangelize" and includes music and narration on four-track stereo tape.

The Waldensians, possibly the oldest Protestant denomination in the world, were persecuted for their beliefs all the way down to the present. The story of their deep faith is one which reveals what problems their love in Jesus Christ enabled them to withstand. The contemporary Waldensian Church in Italy continues to face many difficulties.

"The Light Shining in the Darkness" shows some of the Waldensians' modern programs and visits a unique Christian community sponsored by the church in a small poverty-ridden town in the heart of Sicily.

YOU WANT THE PLOT?

"Belle" Is Labyrinthine. Detailing the plot of "Belle the Trapezeter Girl" would be like unraveling the Watergate case. Just mark it down for the weekend of Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 18, 19 and 20 and Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the following week, and plan to be at the Unitarian Church's Little Theatre at 8:30.

"Belle" is the 40th anniversary production of Princeton Community Players, and has been given by the group, before, several years ago. In this version, Herbert McAneny is directing the play and Betty Goida and Karen Debby are directing between-the-acts song and dance.

Rita Rofe plays the virtuous Belle, who finds true love after vicissitudes with the villain (Jim Marvel) who is a seemingly respectable banker and broker guilty of all sorts of dastardly deeds. There is a sub-villain (Jim Hopkins) who gets a chance to reform; a mystery man named Abe (Allan Salkin) and a hard-pressed mother (Marie Miller) who finds she can pay the rent after all.

Marie Miller is in charge of costumes, as well as rent receipts, and Elaine Restifo has done the period backdrops.

MONTGOMERY

The Thief Who Came To Dinner. (PG) This story of a computer programmer turned thief is not up to The Thomas Crown Affair but if you like caper films it's worth seeing. Otherwise, this slick, intermittently funny comedy, which stars Ryan O'Neal and Jacqueline Bisset, is rather banal.

Ryan is a swinging bachelor bored, divorced, with no other interests in life than getting money. Bisset, lovely to look at, is a blase Texas party-goer, catty — and much too available. "You're too pretty to be any good," she says, upon seeing him at a party, but she is in his arms a minute later anyway. Both struggle through the film in a dazed manner portraying characters that are non-feeling.

In their defense, they have to contend with some pretentious lines. Gone are the days when a well-planned robbery was sufficient to excite interest; this film, like most of its genre has fallen victim to a case of the social cutes: the False Face of Society must crack along with every safe.

Counterpointing O'Neal and Bisset is the film's most attractive performance by Warren Oates, a dogged insurance investigator, whose ex-wife is secretly driving him up the wall by dating a younger man. He and Jill Clayburgh as O'Neal's ex-wife are the only two people one wants to care about.

Journey To The Far End of the Sun, a children's film, is being shown as the second part of a double feature.

GARDEN

Pete 'n' Tillie (now playing) is a two-handkerchief movie starring Walther Matthau and Carol Burnett. It has a casual manner about it that neatly suggests how easily it could be happening to the couple next door, and capitalizes on the fact that covering emotions with a layer of wit is a true malaise.

Miss Burnett is a much more subtle comedienne in this film than TV has allowed her to be. Her moments with her dying son in the film are particularly good and warm. Matthau does a steady wry and likeable job as the husband.

ALL ABOUT LOVE AND MARRIAGE: Until their marriage starts to crumble Walter Matthau and Carol Burnett find their arguments end in bed in "Pete 'n Tillie," the comedy-drama at the Garden Theater.

PLAYHOUSE

Charlotte's Web (now playing) This 94-minute animated cartoon is a retelling of E. B. White's delightful children's tale of Charlotte, a spider, (Debbie Reynolds) who saves the life of Wilbur, a pig (Henry Gibson) by making him an international celebrity.

Paul Lynde sparkles with wit and cleverness as Templeton the Rat and Agnes Moorehead is a rare treat doing the stuttering Goose.

Some may cavil with the quality of the animation when compared to the great Disney classics but this is a film that can be enjoyed by both young and old. White's tale is that literary rarity which can appeal emotionally to all ages because of his wisdom and insight.

Real Estate Happenings

by KEN DIENER
manager West Windsor office

A stream as a boundary line for a piece of property is an interesting incident in real estate law. It seems that if a stream is the boundary for your property, you own half the stream. Your line extends down the middle of the stream. If it is the sort of stream that is big enough for boats, etc., then you own only to the high water mark.

You may call the low water area yours, too, but it is subject to the rights of the public. Know your real estate boundaries with the assistance of those at WALTER B. HOWE INC., 1 Palmer Sq., Princeton (924-0095), Pennington (737-3301) and W. Windsor (799-1100). Open 9-9. Sat. 9-5. Sun. 1-5. Estab. 1885. All forms of real estate.

Large-Size Props Needed by Street Theatre

The young managers of Street Theatre, about to present the Theatre in its third season of street-park-playground plays, need a couple of props.

First: office, rehearsal and storage space. Christ Congregation Church, with regret, has asked the Theatre to depart by June 1 because the church is about to remodel. Street Theatre needs workshop and rehearsal space for both daytime and evening use during the summer, and meeting space for evenings in the winter. Props, sound equipment, costumes and the like, must be stored, as well.

Second: Street Theatre needs a place to store its stage—the trailer that unfolds to reveal the magic of whatever production Street Theatre has at the moment. For a time, the trailer was stored in the University's armory but that space is no longer available. The stage is too big for the average garage, but a barn would be marvellous.

Third: anybody got a truck? A truck, larger than a panel truck, is need to haul the four-ton trailer. Last year, the Recreation Commission provided the truck.

Fourth: but certainly not last, Street Theatre could use $1,300. The organization is funded by the Recreation Commission, but the Commission has had to cut back Theatre's budget by about one-half.

Street Theatre's new directors are Rip Pellaton, Princeton High class of '72, and Debbie Bellow, PHS class of '71. The former director, Mrs. Amie Brockway, is now a consultant. Anyone from seventh grade up is eligible to sign on, either in acting or technical work. Information may be obtained from Debbie Bellow at 921-8826.

Moth Spray? Yes

Controlled, one - time spraying against gypsy moths will begin in the Township around May 7, announced Mayor Jay Bleiman this week.

Areas the state will spray are Woodfield (the Open Space acreage), State Road and Cherry Hill Road. Although some neighbors of these areas petitioned the Township not to spray, Mayor Bleiman said Committe unanimously agreed that the spraying should be allowed to proceed.

"The danger of toxicity is minimal, and we'll try to prevent any spill-over into areas outside those to be sprayed," he said. After the once-only spraying, he said, natural parasites will be introduced to keep the moth under control.

So we treat our vans and the pads we use with the famous SANITIZED* process. A unique precaution that assures the freshness of everything you own. For a really "clean get-away" on moving day, call us.

Defense Fund Short of Goal.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

This letter is written to thank publicly the hundreds of Princetonians who responded to our appeal for funds to pay the trial expenses for Len Brown. As readers of this paper know, the East Brunswick municipal court judge ruled against Len in the two cases that ultimately were brought to trial.

The court cases took five days and produced 2,500 pages of testimony which will be used in filing the civil rights case in Len's behalf and in any further legal action that might be taken by Len. Although over $3,000 has been contributed to the Len Brown Defense Fund, we are anticipating that close to twice that sum will be needed before the cases are concluded.

Our warmest thanks to the Princeton community for its generous support. Further contributions may be made to the Len Brown Defense Fund, Princeton Youth Center, Princeton, N.J.

Finaacial Problems Explained.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

We salute your music critic (Arno Safran) on his tenth year of service. He has consistently shown good taste and informed udgment.

In Mr. Safran's recent review (Town Topics, April 12) of the last of the Music from Marlboro concerts, he suggests, by way of a general comment, that there should be more symphonic concerts in Princeton. We of the Princeton University Concerts Committee very much agree with him. But there is a serious problem that concert-goers may not be aware of. High costs have already forced us to shut out the great choral-orchestral and operatic literature, and now even symphonic concerts are gradually pricing themselves out of reach.

Financially, the decision to engage a first-rate symphony orchestra is simply a decision to incur a deficit. The only variable is how much of a deficit.

As a matter of fact, any concert at McCarter Theatre for which the artist fee is over $4,000 creates a deficit. Now it is rare that one can get a top orchestra for less than $12,000; $15,000 is not uncommon. (That used to be about $6,000 only ten years ago.) Last December 2,500 people heard the Chicago Symphony at Jadwin, two and a half times the size of a McCarter audience, and there was still a deficit.

A concert series with, in Mr. Safran's language, "encore-type selections filling out the solo and duet recitals" can of course be very good. But some of the greatest music literature is also symphonic, choral-orchestral, and operatic, and Princeton audiences are entitled to hear this literature performed by the very best available professionals. With greater support from the public, the Princeton University Concerts Committee will continue to bring to Princeton, as it has for over three decades, the highest quality of professional performances from the wide range of instrumental and vocal music.

FAOLOU SHEHADI,
Chairman,
Princeton University
Concerts Committee

ACLU Posters Removed.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

For the last four years our local chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union has held its annual fund-raising party around this time of year. And for the last four years some person (or persons) unknown has removed our posters announcing this event from various communal billboards around town.

I have just replaced one of our posters, for the third time in almost as many days, at the corner of Witherspoon and Nassau Streets. No other posters nearby, even those out-of-date, have been treated in this manner.

It does seem a pity that there are minds so distorted and fearful as to try, in this petty way, to frustrate the well-being of an organization whose sole purpose for over fifty years has been the protection of those rights guaranteed by the Bill of Rights to all citizens no matter what their beliefs.

Clothes Needed in Marks.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Four years ago many Princeton families who had become aware of the deep poverty of the black community in Marks, Miss. sent packages of clothing to be distributed by one of the residents, Mrs. Lula Weathersby.

Last month, before floodwaters had crested, Mrs. Weathersby wrote to tell me again of the need among her neighbors. Her letter says that now "jobs have closed and waters come and people lose everything."

Clearly these people need continuing aid. If a large number committed themselves to mailing packages of useful, but unneeded, clothing to Marks, and made it a regular commitment, perhaps twice a year, the impact could be substantial. This would also be a worthwhile project for an organization to undertake each spring and fall.

Our outgrown clothing can help bring comfort to the people of Marks and free their very limited resources for other needs. Clothing and household linens may be sent to: Mrs. Lula B. Weathersby, 809 3rd Street, Marks, Miss. 38646.

As in the past, Mrs. Weathersby will see that everything is properly distributed.

From 1956 until 1967, he toured with a band of young up and coming musicians, and since that time has led successful bands in England, the Continent, and in the United States.

ADMISSION OFFERED

To 2,063 for Class of 1977. Princeton University has offered admission to 2,063 young men and women as members of next fall's entering freshman class in letters mailed last week to secondary school seniors in 46 states and more than a dozen foreign countries.

From this group Admission Director Timothy C. Callard hopes to produce a Class of 1977 numbering 1,100 freshmen — identical in size to last year's — 800 men and 300 women. It would boost to about 1,200 the number of undergraduate women enrolled at Princeton, as compared with some 3,200 males.

The admitted secondary school students, 1,508 men and 555 women, were selected from among a new all-time record 8,569 (comparing with 8,466 a year ago) who completed applications, 6,081 men and 2,488 women.

Thus, overall, about one out of every 4.5 who completed the application procedure was accepted, the rates, however, for minority-group applicants, alumni sons and daughters, engineering candidates, and students with unusual talents were somewhat higher.

More Minority Students. In most areas, admission statistics closely parallel those of last year. There was a slight increase in the number of admitted minority - group students, including more Orientals, Latinos, and Native Americans and an identical number of Mexican - Americans. The number of admitted Blacks dropped slightly.

Of 372 minority - group applicants admitted frm a pool of 1,078 — better than one out of three — 199 were Blacks (111 men; 88 women, out of an applicant pool of 537).

"Princeton is committed to seeking out top applicants from those minority groups which in the past found access to a Princeton education difficult to attain," Mr. Callard noted.

In some cases, he went on to say, "the traditional academic credentials of these applicants are less competitive than those of others because of poor early educational preparation. . .

"In its consideration of minority applicants, therefore the Admission Office has looked carefully for evidence that the applicant has the ability to do the work at Princeton and, beyond this, for signs of energy, commitment, persistence, and self-reliance, qualities which we knw from past experience enable less well prepared students to perform far better than their formal credentials might predict."

Women Admissions. Up More women (555) were offered admission this year than last (473) to attain an expected freshman enrollment of 300 in each case. Mr. Callard pointed out that the increase is due to an expected "lower yield" among the number of women applicants who finally choose to matriculate at Princeton, a factor which last year required the Admission office to draw from its waiting - list applicants.

A sharp increase (up 32 percent) in the number of applicants planning an engineering program was particularly encouraging to Mr. Callard. A total of 288 were admitted this year (260 men and 28 women), out of 774 declared candidates, for the B.S.E. degree. Last year an identical 288 were admitted but from a pool of 590.

Of the 2,063 applicants admitted as freshmen for next fall, 139 are sons of Princeton alumni and 82 are alumni daughters. The 221 total is 12 higher than a year ago and was drawn from an applicant pool of 519.

Nearly 63 percent of the admitted group are currently attending public schools. Over 90 percent rank in the top 20 percent of their classes, academically, on the basis of the most recent marks.

As another measure of ability, the average College Entrance Examination Board scores were 610 for the SAT verbal section (636 for men; 651 for women), 679 for the SAT mathematics section (692 for men, 646 for women), and 680 for the average of the three required achievement tests (682 for men, 675 for women).

FUND DRIVE UNDERWAY

For Career Development Awards. Fred M. Blaicher, fund raising chairman for Career Development Awards, is initiating a campaign to provide financial aid for high school graduates and other qualified people who wish to train for technical, vocational, commercial and service careers.

C.D.A. is the first community supported program in the nation which grants financial assistance to non - college bound students. With an all volunteer Board of Trustees, it disburses most of its funds in the form of yearly scholarships.

In the past, grants of up to $16,000 have seen students thru one or two years of training and $100 grants have been given as honorary awards to students with no financial need.

C.D.A.'s larger aim, according to Mr. Blaicher, President of Palmer Square Inc., "is to attract competent young people to vocational, technical, and commercial programs by honoring the people and the programs, as well as by granting financial assistance, when necessary."

Mr. Blaicher points to the nationwide shortage of trained people as indicative of the social downgrading of many urgently needed occupations.

An innovation in this year's C.D.A. program, permits a contributing company to earmark its award for a specific training program. If applicant and award can be matched, the awardee will be informed of the company's sponsorship, and the company will be given the awardee's name. "Thus," according to Blaicher, "will enable the company to make a heretofore unavailable contact with the awardee which could be beneficial to both parties." He adds that "should the match up not be possible, the company's contribution will be placed into the general awards pool."

WORKSHOP SATURDAY

On Children's Behaviour. Understanding and Helping Children's Behavior is the subject of a day-long workshop 9:30 to 3 p.m. Saturday, April 28, to be held at the Unitarian Church of Princton.

The workshop will consist of demonstrations in educational counseling and discussion groups, all focusing on practical approaches to everyday experiences in the family and in the classroom. With emphasis on children up to age of adolescence, such problems as fighting, chores, homework, bedtime, messy rooms will be considered.

In the classroom, it is winning the co-operation of the group and handling discipline problems that will be considered for pre-school up to adolescence.

The Workshop on Behavior is an outgrowth of a study group which has been meeting weekly at the Unitarian Church since the beginning of March. Twenty parents and church school teachers have been looking at behavior patterns in their own families and classrooms in the light of the concepts set forth in the books "Children: the Challenge," "Encouraging Children to Learn," "Maintaining Sanity in the Classroom," and "Discipline Without Tyranny." The tone of the Saturday workshop may be gleaned from these titles.

The leader of the day-long event will be Emily Thorne, ASAP, of Wilmington. Mrs. Thorne is an acredited Family Education Counselor, Adlerian, currently serving as a counselor at the Family Education Center of Delaware.

To register or obtain additional information, call the Unitarian Church office, 924-1604. Lunch will be the sharing of sandwich makings brought by the participants. Coffee and dessert will be provided.

PDS PLANS FAIR

Two New Booths Added. Country days, happy times, haystacks and hoe-downs herald the Princeton Day School Fair set this year for Saturday, May 12 from 10-4. Co-Chairmen are Mrs. William F. Murdoch, Jr. and Mrs. Pierce J. Lonergan.

New this year will be a blue jean boutique, featuring used, decorated jeans. They will come in a variety of sizes and should appeal to all ages. Another new booth will be Grandmother's Trunk, featuring old-fashioned (very trendy) clothes. Feather boas and reticules at bargain prices.

Shopping for Mother's Day (day after the Fair this year) will be a treat at the Mother's Day booth, which will have, among other enticing items, four beautiful patchwork quilts.

All the old favorites will return: penny candy, pony rides, a midway of games, hats and games, plants, paper flowers, hand made arts and crafts, baked goods. The Fairgrounds are the PDS skating rink, just off the Great Road. All proceeds go to the PDS scholarship fund.

RUMMAGE SALE NEXT WEEK: Mrs. Joseph Grazel, left, and Mrs. Robert Mellinger are two of the many volunteers helping to plan the Rummage Sale for the benefit of the Princeton Medical Center. It will be held at the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club.

FLIGHT TWO IS BUSY

Planning, Evaluating Service. Flight Two is combining programming with evaluation and planning for the future.

The Trinidad guitar studio is open weekday afternoons at Trinity Church and the Yoga workshop Friday afternoons at 4 p.m. at The First Presbyterian Church.

Flight Two youth are aiding in organizing the Youth Concerns Committee all town recreation night at the YMCA Saturday and is having a Marquand Park picnic-soccer game Friday, beginning at 6 p.m. Planning for youth components for the Art Peoples Party and the Hospital Fete are in the works.

Community Service coordinator Wendy Richardson and Program Coordinator Steve Cohen have been working with the Council of Community Services and The Commission on the Aging to initiate a transportation service for the elderly. Miss Richardson is beginning to work to locate summer jobs and volunteer possibilities for students.

Jill Irvine, Drug and Health Coordinator has just published a guide to Drug, Health, Legal and Counseling Services for students. Some 3,000 copies of the seven page pamphlet are being distributed to high school students. Flight Two is seeking cooperation from area schools and youth agencies in delivering it.

On the evaluation side, Recreation Director, Michael Novak is conducting a survey of what youth seek in recreation and what effort they can bring to rejuvinate Flight Two's recreational activities.

To obtain broad public input to aid long-term planning for goal and strategy setting, Flight Two is holding a general meeting this Thursday at 3 p.m. to hear criticisms, suggestions, ideas.

SOCIAL SECURITY TIPS

Available In New Leaflet. A leaflet explaining how to estimate social security retirement benefits is available at social security offices. The leaflet, "Estimating Your Social Security Retirement Check," designed to help people in their retirement planning, includes a chart showing the number of quarters required to qualify for benefits and a worksheet to help in estimating the amount of benefits.

The leaflet can be used to compute a rough estimate of retirement benefits, but an exact figure cannot be determined until application for benefits is made. The exact amount of a worker's social security benefits is based on his average earnings under the program over a period of years that may include his most recent work.

Single copies of the leaflet are free on request at any social security office. The phone number in Trenton is 396-3545.

Seven members of the Princeton University faculty will receive fellowship awards from the Guggenheim Memorial Foundation. They were among 339 scholars, scientists and artists chosen from 2,416 applicants.

The are

Dr. L. Carl Brown, Garrett Professor in Foreign Affairs, Department of Near Eastern Studies: Party and political representation in 19th century Egypt and Tunisia.

Dr. Donald Davidson, Lecturer in Philosophy with rank of Professor and also Professor of Philosophy, Rockefeller University: Studies in the philosophy of language.

Dr. Alan Gelperin, Assistant Professor of Biology: Studies on the neurophysiological basis of animal behavior.

Dr. David J.J. Kinsman, Associate Professor Geological and Geophysical Sciences: The early sedimentary history of rifted continental margins.

Michel Glouchevitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Glouchevitch, 184 Mansgrove Road, is playing no. 5 singles on the Swarthmore College tennis team. At the halfway mark in the season, he was the only player with a 6-1 record. He is a former member of the varsity tennis team at Princeton High School.

J. Robert Hillier, has received an award for best Design in Housing from the American Iron and Steel Institute. Mr. Hillier's award was based on his own home on Ridgeview Circle. More than 1,000 entries in 14 categories were received for judging, with awards going to the 24 designs considered most outstanding.

Three residents of this area, students at Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science have been named to the Dean's List for the fall term.

They are Ka Hing Chu, 301 Gallup Road, Richard K. Chumney, 9 Morningside Drive, Pennington; and Mark T. Timbie, 35 East Curlis Avenue.

Dr. Walter F. Murphy, McCormick Professor of Jurisprudence: Public attitudes towards constitutional courts.

Dr. Richard M. Rorty, Professor of Philosophy: The quest for certainty and the problematic of modern philosophy.

Jean-Claude van Itallie, Visiting Lecturer in Creative Writing and Theatre: Creative writing for the theatre.

Amy Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Cook, has been named to the Dean's list for both the first and second semester at Northeastern University in Boston.

Walter Kaufmann, 429 Prospect Avenue, has written a new book, "Without Guilt and Justice," published by Peter H. Wyden, Inc. of New York.

According to Professor Kaufmann, there is one age-old but hitherto unrecognized fear that is nearly universal. It is "Decidophobia" — the morbid dread of making decisions - an ostrich-like defense that drives people to seek refuge in conformity, religion, political movements and marriage.

This book finds alienation as essential to attain the inner resources of The New Integrity. There are no easy answers; the radically honest life of creative autonomy is the only constructive escape from the chains of indecision.

A professor of philosophy at Princeton, Professor Kaufmann has taught here since 1947.

Herbert E. Alexander, 152 Clover Lane, has returned from Woodstock, England, where he attended an international Conference on Politics Media Relationships. Two internationally known Princeton University Faculty members, physicist Robert H. Dicke, 321 Prospect Avenue and geologist Hollis D. Hedberg, 118 Library Place were among the 14 scientists singled out for top awards at next week's 110th Annual Meeting of the National Academy of Sciences in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Dicke, 56-year-old Cyrus Fogg Brackett Professor of Physics at Princeton and a 1970 winner of the National Medal of Science, received the $4,000 Comstock Prize, awarded every five years for "the most important discovery or investigation in electricty, magnetism or radiant energy."

A graduate of Princeton with the Class of 1939, who was recently awarded the NASA Exceptional Scientific Achievement Medal in recognition of "his outstanding contributions to the success of the Apollo Moon Landing Program," Dicke will be cited Monday for "pioneering development and use of instruments of high precision in the investigation of the nature of gravitation and the universe."

Dr. Hedberg, Professor of Geology, Emeritus, in Princeton's Department of Geological and Geophysical Sciences, was the 1973 winner of the Mary Clark Thompson Medal, consisting of a gold medal and an honorarium of $1,000 and given about every three years "for most important services to geology and paleontology."

An authority on stratigraphy and petroleum exploration and a 69-year-old native of Falun, Kansas, who combined a decade of teaching at Princeton with affiliation with the Gulf Oil Corporation, first as Vice-President for Exploration and subsequently as Exploration Advsier, Professor Hedberg will be cited for his "outstanding contributions to theoretical geology."

Helena Brett-Smith, 21 Prospect Avenue and Jeffrey D. Lewis, 29 Bainbridge Street, have both received $1,000 National Merit Scholarship awards. Miss Brett-Smith is a student at Princeton Day School. Mr. Lewis attends Princeton High.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Cawley, renowned co-authors and lecturers on Princeton area history of roads, rivers and canals were recently entertained at a farewell luncheon for a few friends and neighbors at the home of Mrs. Charles G. Tindall in Grover's Mill.

The Cawleys, residents of Kingston Terrace, are leaving their native New Jersey for Heritage Village in Southbury, Conn. where they will remain active in keeping alive the interest they have created by their books in the history of New ersey's heritage.

The latest of the Cawley books is the 1971 Revised Edition of "Exploring the Little Rivers of New Jersey". Rutgers University Press printed this edition and presented the color photo jacket of the book as a momento to the Cawleys of their 50th wedding anniversary that year.

Excepting for the time spent in making 14 tours by canoe and car across these United States and for ten years spent as residents of New England the Cawleys have spent most of their married life in Princeton or the Princeton area.

James R. Arrington, 177 Jefferson Road, has been elected senior vice-president of the New Jersey Society, Sons of the American Revolution. He also holds the office of treasurer in the John Hart Chapter in the Hopewell Valley area.

J. Neil Arrington, 44C Nassau Street, president of the John Hart Chapter, received the Patriot Medal for distinguished service to the New ersey Society. An identical medal was awarded to Albert L. Stokes, Old Georgetown Road; only two such medals are presented each year.

W. Howard Klank, manager of New Jersey Bell's Princeton and Hightstown offices, has completed 45 years of service with the telephone company.

Mr. Klank, who lives at 340 South Main Street, Hightstown, was a borough councilman there from 1964 to 1972.

Active in numerous groups, Mr. Klank is president of the Hightstown Area Chamber of Commerce and treasurer of the Hightstown Chapter, American Field Service for International Scholarships.

He is a trustee of the Princeton Area United Community Fund and chairman of the Hightstown service committee of the Salvation Army. He is a member of the Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce, the Hightstown Lions Club, Post 5700 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Lodge 1955, B.P.O.E.

Winners in other categories were: most authentic racer: David Asan, James Fischer, Jeff Lippincott; most original racer: Bill Damron, Tom Jasien, Clark Lippincott; best craftsmenship: Dan Marrazzo, Lewis Barringer, Greg Lieberman; best paint job: Dan Marrazzo, Glen Clark, Nelson Dismukes; best endeavor: Andre Lima, Eugene Pierce, Glen Golda.

Mr. Fred Marrazzo was chairman of the Derby, and judges were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Petrozzini, owners of Collector's Corner, Inc., 61 Main Street, Kingston.

Pack 48 is sponsored by All Saints' Church. C. A. Lippincott is cubmaster, and den leaders are Mrs. Leo Jasien, Mrs. John Dismukes, Mrs. Wm. M. Damron, Mrs. Immanuel Kohn, Theo. D. Vreeland and P. Niel Yocum.

The Lions Club, West Windsor Community Association & Garden Club are buying the trees. The Township Recreation Committee is providing a co-ordinator, supporting stakes and peat moss.

According to Anne O'Neill, advisor to the Recreation Committee and co-ordinator for Arbor Day, "European Mt. Ash were selected because of a suggestion of the West Windsor Environmental Commission that trees with some bird feeding use be planted." European Mt. Ash produce a berry crop that attracts 15 species of birds from August through March.

"With the tree-less state of many of West Windsor's roads Arbor Day is a perfect excuse to start improving the situation," Ms. O'Neill commented. "It's just too bad we can't do everything at once."

APRIL ART

At University Museum, P[illegible] illuminated Greek manuscripts currently on display at the Princeton University Art Museum present a multifaceted[illegible] of this scope has not been assembled for several decades and is significant for its range as well as its beauty. It is possible for the scholar to trace the stylistic and religious evolution of these richly embellished art and it is also possible for the less sophisticated viewer to absorb a good deal of knowledge and an unusual amount of viewing pleasure from the many aspects of the manuscripts.

The works on display are predominantly religious documents used in the execution of church ceremonies. Hymnals, psalters, lectionaries and illustrated Gospels dominate the collection. The calligraphy is, in itself, a visually exciting experience. The rhythms of Greek script provide a gentle motif which, when combined with symbols, intensely hued decorative patterns using nature forms and gilded portraits of saints, yield a rich and profound effect.

Color, style, and the nature of the symbols alter from century to century, as well as with the geographical origin of the manuscripts. Different eras and different places seem to focus on specific color arrangements and differing stylistic patterns.

A high degree of scholarship is necessary to understand the structure and evolution of these works. However it takes only a sense of pleasure derived from seeing beautiful things for this exhibition to become a visually rich and enlightening experience.

At The Drawing Room, Marine painting in England evolved slowly during several centuries. Beginning in the 16th century, paintings and drawings of ships were usually depicted on the stormy seas or were essentially architectural in their portrayal. Boats as part of landscape and maritime scenes in general became more refined throughout the centuries and by the end of the 18th century were taking on a more lyrical quality. Maritime painting as seascape, and landscape including water views became more highly refined and less manneristic as the 19th century began.

The current exhibit at The Drawing Room is entitled, "Ships, Skies and Shores, Watercolours and Drawings by English artists of the 19th Century." Beneath this very wide umbrella of a title sits a wide range of very well executed paintings, sketches and wash drawings.

Although some of them are almost small enough to be considered miniatures, they all maintain the freshness and fluidity of brushwork that is so necessary to the well executed water color. Clear, transparent tones, deftly painted details and a generally gentle atmosphere pervade this collection of softly contoured coastlines, stormy seas and interesting studies of ships and harbours.

The locale is mainly English with great regard for the beautiful coastline and harbors of the British Isles. Occasional ventures onto the continent depict the Riviera, quite round, and include several coastal scenes of France and Italy.

"IN MEMORY OF BUSTER KEATON": The silent film comic is memorialized in this print by Judith Brodsky. It is part of a Brodsky show on view at the Princeton Gallery of Fine Art.

At Gallery of Fine Art, Poetry as a series of images has usually been restricted to a literary experience. Word pictures were left to float and appear in the reader's brain as a visual reflection of verbal imagery. Judith K. Brodsky, a nationally recognized local artist, and her father, Dr. I.J. Kapstein, who is professor of English (Emeritus) at Brown University, have married the visual and verbal arts into a series of prints and poems presented as a single artistic entity. The exhibit is at the Princeton Gallery of Fine Art.

The poetry by Dr. Kapstein contains reflections of personal experience as well as some commentary on contemporary life. Mrs. Brodsky has taken the words, extracted the pictures created by the rich language and interpreted them into a collection of lyrical and skillful graphics embellishing the literary meanings with a second layer of symbolism and personal definition.

Mrs. Brodsky's mastery of the many intricacies and contemporary refinements of multicolor intaglio printing enable her to use a wide range of subtle and complex technical innovations in her work. She contrasts the photographic image with finely etched lines and creates rich textural effects using the embossing aspects of her medium as well as her opportunities for surface tone. Surface specific images and contrasting forms and techniques all interact, sometimes illustrate and sometimes subtly resolve subtle definitions of feeling created by the poetry.

Work by Judith Brodsky is included in the Fogg Museum, the Library of Congress, the New Jersey State Museum and Princeton University. She has won many prizes and is currently Professor of Printmaking at Beaver College.

Galleries. A collection of landscapes by Bucks County artist Willi Schelner is featured this month at the Squibb Galleries. Realistic scenes and nature studies are portrayed with great detail and technical skill in a most naturalistic manner.

This artist developed his technical discipline and his relationship with nature forms as a designer of decorative motifs for Boehm porcelain and china. The same meticulous eye for detail and accuracy that have made Boehm porcelain notable is present in the many paintings on display.

HUSBAND-WIFE SHOW SET

By Art Confederation Gallery. The Art Confederation Gallery will open its spring season with a four-day exhibit of the works of two Canadian artists, Irene and Ozz Mickunas. Included in the husband-wife show will be Mrs. Mickunas' abstract paintings and Mr. Mickunas' figurative wood sculpture.

The Mickunas' will travel to Princeton after the closing of a show of their work in New York City. Irene Mickunas has had one-woman shows in Toronto and Sarnia, Canada. A number of her paintings have traveled across Canada under the auspices of the Ontario Art Gallery of Toronto.

She recently won the water color purchase award of the Canadian Society of Painters. Her work is included in numerous public and private collections in Canada and the United States. One of her paintings was exhibited in the Canadian Pavilion at the World's Fair in Japan.

Ozz Mickunas' wood sculpture has been included in shows in Detroit, London, England, and in London, Chatham and Sarnia, Ontario.

The show will open with a reception for the artists on Wednesday evening, May 2, from 7 to 9 and extend through Saturday, May 5. The Gallery hours at 1-9 on Thursday and Friday and 1-5 on Saturday. The Art Confederation Gallery is in the courtyard of Owen's Barn, 77 Main Street, Kingston, opposite the Presbyterian Church.

PDS ARTS FESTIVAL: This bust by Ruth Borock, a 10th grader at Princeton Day will be one of the many items on view at the School's Arts Festival this Sunday afternoon.

PDS STUDENTS SET

For Spring Arts Festival. The Spring Arts Festival at Princeton Day School will be celebrated this Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.

Visitors will have an opportunity to see students at work in various media from one to three, and there will follow a concert — band, orchestra, and chorus — in the theatre lobby of the school.

The School has earned a considerable reputation for the quality and variety of its art over the past years, not only for its sophistication and professionalism, but for the freshness and spontaniety of much of the work.

The arts festival offers a unique opportunity to see students at work in various media: life drawing, sculpture, and painting, under the direction of Arlene Smith; batiking, puppetry, collages, directed by Eileen Holmuth; Jeanne Duff's potters will be at work, and in the crafts room there will be weaving and needlework, as well.

Robrt Whitlock's architectural drawing students will be present, and in the shop, Andrew Franz' students will display their work, both in process, and completed. A paramount aspect of the festival, as Mr. Franz points out, is "exposure of students to parents."

T celebrate is to observe with proper rites and ceremonies. The festival will be further celebrated with a Middle School band, orchestra, and chorus concert at 3 p.m. These rites and ceremonies will be under the musical direction of Frank Jacobson.

PAA PLANS WORKSHOP

Wolf Kahn to Direct. Wolf Kahn, the nationally-known landscape painter, will conduct a painting workshop for the Princeton Art Association on Wednesday, May 2 and Friday evening, May 4.

All day Wednesday will be spent outside, painting; on Friday evening, at the PAA Studio, he will give a critique of participants' work.

Mr. Kahn, whose work is discussed in Allen Gussow's new book on American landscape painters entitled "A Sense of Place," has had many one-man exhibitions including 10 shows at the Grace Borgenicht Gallery in New York. His work is included in numerous private and museum collections including the Museum of Modern Art, the Whitney Museum, and the Brooklyn Museum. An exhibition of his recent landscapes will open at the Princeton Gallery of Fine Arts May 19.

Reservations should be made as early as possible since space is limited; call the PAA at 921 9173.

SHOW OPENS SATURDAY

For 7 Black Artists. The recent works of seven prominent black artists from this area will be featured in a show entitled, "Artists as Social Critics", sponsored by the Lawrence Arts Council.

It will preview on Saturday from 8-10 p.m. at the Neighborhood Service Center Auditorium, Eggerts Crossing Road, Trenton. The exhibit will continue thru May 6, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays and 2-5 p.m. weekends.

CHORAL MUSIC PLANNED

By University Glee Club. The Princeton University Glee Club, conducted by Walter Nollner, will present a concert of choral music Sunday evening at 8:30 in Alexander Hall on the University campus.

The program will begin with the "Coronation Mass" by Mozart, after the "Requiem" the most famous choral work of the composer. This mass was last performed by the Princeton chorus on the campus in the early 60's, and in Mexico in 1969 to critical acclaim.

Concluding the first half of the program will be a performance of Arnold Schonberg's "Friede auf Erden" (Peace on Earth), the first Princeton performance of the most famous composition for chorus by the great 20th century composer. The optional chamber orchestra provided by Schonberg will be used for this performance, which will also act as a "curtain-raiser" to several Schonberg performances being planned by the Glee Club for 1974 (the 100th anniversary of Schonberg's birth as well as of the founding of the Glee Club.)

The chamber orchestra playing for the Mozart and Schonberg will have as its concertmistress Nadia Koutzen, famous concert violinist and Princeton resident. Princeton undergraduates combined with other Princeton residents (including Joan Mills, Renee Weise and Debbie Turner) make up the orchestra.

Occupying the second half of the program will be the "Symphony of Psalms" by Igor Stravinsky. Joining the Glee Club for this performance will be the Princeton University Freshman Glee Club, William Trego, conductor, making a total chorus of some 140 voices. The "concertmistress" for this orchestra is Jayn Rosenfeld, first flutist of the American Symphony Orchestra and also a Princeton resident, and the remainder of the orchestra is also made up of a combination of students and Princeton residents. As far as is known, this will be the first performance of the Stravinsky work in Princeton since the early 60's.

Tickets for the performance are on sale at the Princeton University Store, from Glee Club members, and at the door on the evening of the performance. General admission is $2; students tickets are $1.

TRINITY CHOIR TO SING

On Sunday, May 6, Works by Bach and Haydn will be featured in the sixth annual spring concert to be presented by the Choir of Men and Boys of Trinity Church in Princeton on Sunday, May 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the church at 33 Mercer Street.

Guest soloists and orchestra will join the 45 voice choir in presenting the "Lord Nelson" Mass by Haydn and the Motet VI and Cantata No. 51 by Bach. The concert is one of two final events in the Trinity-All Saints concerts Series which has presented 12 choral, orchestra and dramatic events during the past season.

Jean Hakes, soprano, and Gerard Schwarz, trumpet from New York, will join Princeton artists Shirley Kinsley, mezzo soprano; John McLain and John Woodard as featured soloists. The orchestra will be from the Collegium Musicum of Princeton. James Litton, organist and choirmaster of Trinity Church will conduct.

Cards of Admission will be available from Trinity choirboys, from the Trinity Parish office and at the door. A contribution of $2 for adults and $1 for students will help defray the expenses of the concert, and will provide summer camp experiences for choirboys.

The Trinity Choir of Men and Boys will also be heard on Monday during a concert of contemporary music at the Cathedral of St. John the Devine in New York. They will sing "Epitaph for this World and Time" by Iain Hamilton, a work for three choirs and three organs.

The Trinity Choir has been one of the choirs to record this work for CRI Records. The New York concert will be part of a three day Conference of the Future Music of the Church.

ORGANIST TO PLAY

Australian Visitor Here. Graeme Rawson, of New South Wales, Australia, will give an organ concert this Sunday at 3 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club.

Mr. Rawson spent several days in Princeton two years ago as a member of the Rotary Foundation study group. Organ playing and organ design is his avocation. He is executive secretary of the Anti-TB Association of New South Wales, and is traveling in the United States and England to study developments in the field of automated multiphasic health screening.

He became a church organist in Australia at the age of nine, and at the age of 20, was named organist of the Central Baptist Church of Sydney. He recently designed the specifications for the neo-classical organ at St. Matthew's Church of England in Pennant Hills, and is a student of early music for classical organ and harpsichord.

SPRING CONCERT SET

By Hopewell Valley Chorus. The Hopewell Valley Chorus, under the direction of Jeff Corelli, will present its annual spring concert Friday, May 4, at 8:15 p.m. in the Hopewell Elementary School Auditorium on Princeton Avenue in Hopewell.

The program will consist of varied spring music including "Cantique" by Gabril Faure and "Sentimental Journey" by Norman Luboff. Admission will be free.

MUSIC FESTIVAL SET

To Benefit NOW Day Nursery. The University-NOW Day Nursery in cooperation with Princeton University will be presenting a gala Spring Festival of Chamber Music Monday, May 7, at 8:30 p.m. at Alexander Hall.

The program is to include a wide variety of works ranging from Telemann to Dahananyi with a special presentation of Bach's 'Coffee' Cantata No. 211, "Be Still and Don't Chatter," for soprano, tenor, baritone, flute, strings and continuo. Beethoven, Brahms, Schumann, and Roussell will round out the program. Most of the performers have strong local ties and are well-known professionally both within the community and throughout the country. Several have international reputations.

Jayne Rosenfeld, organizer of the benefit, is the former first flutist of the American Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Leopold Stokowski and in addition to a wide variety of performing activities, is currently teaching at Westminster choir College.

Bethany Beardslee is a well-known singer in the Princeton area, having sung with many important American orchestras, and is best known, perhaps, for her interpretations of contemporary music.

Nadia Koutzen, concertmistress of the Garden State Philharmonic, will also be performing along with Phyllis Lehrer, presently teaching at Westminster Choir College. Paul Sperry, a leading lieder singer, who performed the role of Benedict in this winter's University production of Berlioz's "Beatrice and Benedict," and Randolph Haviland, principal bassoonist of the National Training Orchestra in New York who also teaches at Douglass College.

Other performers include Sue Chamberlin and Portial The concert is being held in Sonnenfeld, both teaching in the Princeton Regional School System and Fadlon Shehadi, who has sung with the Princeton Symphony Orchestra, the Detroit Symphony and in several international musical groups.

The concert is being held in an effort to raise funds for the Nursery, the only day-care center in the area currently providing full day-care services for children two to five years of age from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. every day, including several major holidays.

With the recent threat of reduction in federal assistance, it has become even more crucial that the Nursery become as financially independent as possible.

Furthr information and tickts may be obtained by calling 924-4214.

PDS PLANS SPONSORSHIP

Of Summer Chamber Orchestra. Princeton Day School will again sponsor a summer chamber orchestra under the direction of Frank Jacobson, head of the school's music department for five weeks, beginning on June 25.

There will be four rehearsals per week, in the late afternoons of Monday through Thursday. Rehearsal times will be planned in such a way as to accomodate players who hold summer jobs.

The group will again be a string orchestra, comprising some 24 to 32 players, ranging in age from junior high school students to adults. Criteria for participation are: ability to play in positions with good tone, intonation and facility (vibrato is desirable), and willingness to be faithful in rehearsal attendance. It is hoped that the program will culminate in at least one public concert. Last year's repertoire included Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik", Corelli's "Prelude, Sarabande, and Gigue", and the Sinfonia in G of Gluck.

Participants will be charged a fee of $25 to cover the expenses of the five-week session. Interested players should contact Mr. Jacobson any weekday evening at 448-7592.

CONCERT SERIES TO END

Sunday Afternoon. The last in a series of Concerts of Contemporary Music will be presented by The Friends of Music on Sunday afternoon, at 3:30 in Woolworth Center. These concerts have served to provide an opportunity for student composers to have their pieces performed and for the audience to hear these works as well as those of established composers of the 20th century.

Four undergraduate composers wil have their compositions presented: John Gardner '76: "Music for Trumpet and French Horn," with Gary Dunning '76, Trumpet and Marie Csete '75, Horn; Keith Fisher '74: "Ode to Poetry," a choral work; Stefan Kozinski '75: "Trio for Piano, Violin and 'Cello;" Frank Brickle '73: "Tropes" (for computer-synthesized tape).

In addition, Robert Pollock's 'Sonatina for Flute and Piano' will be performed by James Winn, Flutist, and the composer at the piano; and Milton Babbitt's "Partitions" and "Post-Partitions" wil be payed by Jerry Kuderna, Pianist.

The concert is open to the public, admission free.

SPORTS FANS!
I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you

Here's a great tip for all you golfers. The immortal Walter Hagen, who was one of the top golfers of all-time, once said that the one piece of philosophy that helped him more than anything else was this thought which he always kept in mind: The thought is this—"There's no such thing as a perfect round of golf. It's normal to make some bad shots. When you make a bad shot, force yourself to forget it and go on to the next shot." Hagen said surprisingly few people do this, but if you adopt this philosophy, you'll automatically be a better golfer.

SPORTS in Princeton

TIGER NINE MUST HIT To Stay in League Race. Ability to score just four runs and make exactly 12 hits in 29 innings last weekend is not a bright sign for the future of Princeton's baseball team. The Tigers were, in fact, lucky to win even one of the three games played — after dropping a 5-2 contest to Cornell Friday and a 2-1 decision to Army in Saturday's opener, they picked up an unearned run in the bottom of the 13th to edge the cadets, 1-0.

During the slow-paced action, 34 Princetonians struck out. A number were called third strikes, and several of these came with men on base, a hallmark of Princeton teams in recent years.

Ironically, the most damaging blow from a Princeton bat was a triple by pitcher Randy Blevins, struck in a losing cause against Cornell. The towering shot to deep center scored two and erased most of a three-run deficit, but Blevins was stranded on third and the Tigers never managed any more.

The Red, runner-up the past two seasons, was the only team last week able to win all of its three weekend games. None of the ten entries in the league is dominating the race this season, so that with the good pitching it has enjoyed, Princeton would have a shot at the title if it could average three or four runs a game. That, however, would be triple its output of last weekend, and is unlikely to occur.

Errors Tell the Story. In each of the games against Army, the winning run scored on a misplay. A 1-0 Princeton lead in the first contest was erased when the cadets scored twice as the result of a single, the runner on first going all the way around when Pete Korsan could not come up with the ball in center field. Bill Coppedge hurled well enough to win, but took the loss when Princeton bats managed just three hits and were charged with a strikeout per inning.

After 12 scoreless rounds in the long nightcap, the Tigers filled the bases with one out. A sharp shot by Steve Loy to the drawn-in third baseman was not fielded cleanly, the hurried throw to the plate hit umpire Lester Fuchs on the knee and catcher Bill Napier crossed the plate with the game's only run. Steve Crandall was the winner in relief of sophomore Scott McHenry, who threw a five-hit shutout before retiring after nine innings.

Princeton might have won the opener if it had gotten a fair call on an outfield fly that ended the game. With two out and a runner on third, pinch-hitter Rich Ziegler hit a fly to shallow right.

The ball was misjudged, Brent Clark of the Army had to dive for it and somersaulted with his back to the Fuchs, who was umpiring the bases in the first contest. The latter called the batter out from an anchored position between second and third, but every Princeton batteryman in the Princeton bull pen will tell you that the ball lay on the grass for a second before Clark scooped it up. Clark himself admitted he was not sure whether or not he had held the ball.

Now the Tigers head for Cambridge, to play a single game Friday against a good Harvard nine, and for Hanover to play a doubleheader Saturday against Dartmouth, which is far off its normal level of ability. They will, however, have to win them all to stay close, and this is not a take-charge team.

CREW LOSES TO PENN Faces Harvard Next. Pennsylvania's fine crew, one of the nation's best, led Princeton across the finish line on the Schuylkill River Saturday to win the Childs Cup race for the 35th time. The Tigers have 16 victories in the series, nearing the end of its first century, and Columbia 10.

A slow start left the Tigers trailing, after one of the oarsmen caught a crab, and they never had a real shot at Penn. They did, however, nail Columbia, leading the Lions by a length after 2,000 meters. The Quakers' margin was two lengths.

Princeton was unable to place a four-oared jayvee shell in the water when two of its members were ill. The freshmen, like the varsity, placed second to one Penn boat but ahead of another and of Columbia.

The news was much better on Cornell's Lake Cayuga, where the Princeton 150s swept the river. Victory over Cornell and Rutgers gave the unbeaten Tigers the Platt Cup for the fifth year in a row.

The Tigers will be at Cambridge this weekend to row against a strong Harvard eight and M.I.T. The Compton Cup is at stake. The lightweights will face their stiffest test of the season when they take on Penn at Philadelphia.

How to travel with furs? If you are going to be visiting a warm country, take as few furs as possible. For those you consider indispensable, however, get a perforated plastic bag to keep your furs in and hang somewhere where the air will circulate so that the furs can breathe. Put a few moth balls in the bottom of the bag, but do not let them touch the fur. Keep furs away from excessive dry heat as they will dry out.

We at WELCOME ABOARD TRAVEL CENTER 29 Witherspoon Street can offer many extra hints to make your trip more enjoyable. One week vacations are becoming more and more popular. But people are getting tired of the "usual" resort—overcrowded and overpriced. A change of pace and place, financially attractive and within easy reach, might be welcome and different after the sameness of past years. Call 921-3350 and ask about the low fare European tours available. Open Monday-Friday 9-5:30 Saturday 10-2.

HELPFUL HINT: Never turn a fur coat inside out to protect it from the rain the fur can stand rain better than the lining can.

TIGERS FACE DARTMOUTH

In Lacrosse Here Saturday.

All even in Ivy lacrosse action going into this Wednesday's game against Penn at Philadelphia, Princeton's lacrosse team will play host to Dartmouth Saturday. The game will begin at 2 on Finney Field, east of Palmer Stadium.

Further proof that the Tigers are on the upswing this year came Saturday at New Haven, when Coach Art Robinson's team scored the Orange and Black's first victory over Yale since 1967. It was an 11-6 final.

Sophomore Bill Chalres provided four of the victors' goals, as he continues to pace the Princeton scoring in his first year on the varsity. Jon Petlit, another major threat and the top man on the team in assists, added two goals and was credited with a pair of assists.

Yale was no worse than 2-all after the first period, trailed by only 4-3 at the intermission but fell victim to a four-goal third quarter during which the Tigers allowed the Blue ony one score. Princeton outshot the losers, 47 to 38.

The Tigers came close to a major upset earlier in the week when they led favored Brown, 10 to 8, with three minutes to go. A four-goal outburst then gave the visitors a 12-10 decision.

Princeton will be at West Point next Wednesday to play Army. The Tigers began the week with a 5-5 record.

RUNLESS DROUGHT ENDS

But PHS Loses Fourth, 9-1.

The Princeton High School baseball team, held scoreless in its first three games, finally pushed that first run across Thursday at Notre Dame, but that was all it got and it went on to lose to the Irish, 9-1.

The Little Tigers will play at Hun School Friday afternoon at 3:45 and entertain Ewing here Tuesday at the same starting time. They were scheduled to play host to Hamilton this Wednesday at 1.

PHS scored its only run so far this season in the second to take a short-lived lead. Steve Kopp singled and advanced to third when John Mooney, playing right field, singled. One out later, Wray Blatter's sacrifice fly scored Kopp.

The losers, who have been notoriously weak at the plate, banged out seven hits against the Irish, who boast a 7-1 record and are unbeaten in Mercer County League play.

Catcher Bob Zinsmeister, held hitless since the opening game, had two of Princeton's seven hits. The clean up batter for the Blue and White, Greg Kline, finally broke out of his slump by getting his first hit. Mike Carlucci and Blattner accounted for the other two PHS safeties.

Jeffe Galle started on the mound and pitched well until the sixth, when he tired and Notre Dame pushed across four runs. The Irish had gone ahead in the third when they scored two runs, and they added another in the fourth and two more in the fifth. Gerald Gocke, who had two of the victors' seven hits, drove in three runs and scored one.

Bobby King came on in relief of Galle but he was wild. Coach Don Blankenbush started Andy Alexander in right field for Galle.

Hitting Shows Life. "The hitting has started to come," commented Blankenbush, who also pointed out that the number of strikeouts — which has averaged 10 per game in the first three — had dropped to three in the Notre Dame game. Walks and errors, he said, had gotten PHS in trouble.

"The spirit is still there. This team is going to come around and win — and I don't mean just one," said Blankenbush.

"We're not big physically. We don't hit the ball hard enough for the other team to make mistakes. We're getting little rollers and bloopers . . . we have to hit the ball hard. But it's coming. The Notre

ONE OF TEN FOR PRINCETON DAY: Hun defenders are all moving the wrong way as John Bragg (38), PDS midfielder, watches his shot hit the net in last week's 10-1 PDS rout of the Hun School. Six Panthers contributed to the scoring.

First doubles pair Chris Miller and Steve Norris and second doubles Jamie Paterson and David Straut also shut out the opposition.

CREAMER GETS NO. 5

As Hun Wins, 6-0. Hun hurler Paul Creamer, who owns all of Hun's victories so far this season, notched his fifth last week, blanking Friends Central, 6-0. The win was Hun's fifth in six starts.

The Red and Black faces a busy week, playing rival Princeton High School Friday at 3:45 on its home diamond and undefeated Lawrenceville Saturday in Lawrenceville at 2:30. On Wednesday, Hun will be in Bryn Athyn, Pa. to play Academy of New Church. This Wednesday, it was scheduled to play visiting Perkiomen here.

Against Friends Central, Creamer was in command all the way. He struck out six and did not issue a single walk. "He's had real good control lately," commented Hun coach Bil McQuade.

Hun scored all it needed in the first when catcher Greg Rafalski doubled and scored on a Quaker error. In the fourth, Rafalski scored again when Dave Clark doubled him home. Rafalski, co-captain of Dame coach told Blankenbush after the game that PHS had gotten as many hits off winning pitcher Tom Ciafrano (2-1) as any team this season.

PDS ROUTS HUN 10-1

In Lacrosse. It was never even close, as the Princeton Day School lacrosse team controlled the ball and the whole ball game to hand Hun School a 10-1 defeat last week in the annual renewal of their cross-town rivalry.

"The game was won at midfield," said Coach Chuck Simpson, "but we outplayed them all over the field." Hun scored its lone goal in the first period on a defensive lapse, and PDS settled down the rest of the way. Co-Capt. and goaltender David Barach contributed 16 saves to the Panther win, while Hun goalie Gutterlin stopped only seven.

Trying to make up physically, what it lacked in finesse, Hun was tagged for 14 penalties, and PDS turned four of them into scores.

Chief ball controller was PDS middie Cam Ferrante, who netted three goals, and picked up 14 groundballs in the contest. Sophomore attackman Rick Gordon popped in a hat trick of his own, and added two assists.

Single goals for PDS were contributed by attackman Tom Moore and middies John Bragg, Grayson Ferrante and John Meredith.

PDS took a 3-1 lead at the end of the first period. The Blue and White added a pair before the half and led 5-1. Avoiding a third quarter letdown it poured in three more after the half and another two in the fourth period.

PDS is now 2-1 for the season. They romped in their opener against an inept Edison High team, 15-1, then lost a 6-5 squeaker to George School.

TWO OPPONENTS BLANKED

By PDS Tennis Team. Princeton Day School's varsity tennis team shut out Solebury School and Germantown Friends by identical 5-0 scores last week, spring its record to 3-0 for the season.

Evan Bash continues his winning ways at first singles, a spot he took over from his brother Steve, who graduated last year. Evan romped in both matches last week.

Younger brother Greg Bash turned in a duplicate performance at second singles, and Capt. Buzz Woodworth took both matches in the number three singles spot.

the team with Creamer, had gotten on by an error.

Singles by Ralfaski and Clark in the sixth and another Quaker bobble accounted for a couple more Hun runs. Ralfaski and Clark led Hun at the plate with two hits apiece.

PHS TRACKMEN WIN

Penn Relays Next. Winner in its last dual meet with New Brunswick, 70-61 — its first of the season — the Princeton High Schol track team will participate this weekend in the Penn Relays and then entertain Trenton High School Monday at 3:45. Coach Larry Ivan's thinclads are currently, 1-3.

Until Thursday, it had to be a disappointing season for PHS co-captain Craig Carlton. He had fared poorly in the low and high hurdles — his specialty and when he fell in the low hurdles last week against Hamilton, a teammate remarked, "This just isn't Craig's year."

All that fell by the wayside against visiting New Brunswick when Craig won the high hurdles and the 440 — his first "firsts" of the season. Mike White had a fine afternoon in winning the 220 in 24.2 and placing second in the low hurdles.

PHS swept the mile for nine points — the difference in scoring between the two teams as John Woodside remained undefeated in the event in dual competition. His winning time was 4:42.2. Bill Frazier (4:56.4) was second and suphomore Morgan Snyder, third. Co-captain Mike Coda continued his dominance in the half mile, taking the event in 2:03.5.

Jim Willard brought PHS its first win in the long jump with a leap of 17-2 3-4. Lou Drury captured the discus (46 feet), Pete Nichols the two-mile (10:11.2) and Mark McLean the pole vault (10-0).

For the visiting Zebras, the defeat was their fourth in five meets.

STICKMEN LOSE, 6-1

To Pingry. Most any coach can take a loss if he feels his team has played its best, but Marvin Trotman, Princeton High School lacrosse coach, walked away from Thursday's 6-1 loss to visiting Pingry far from convinced that his team had given its best.

"We didn't want it; we just died out there. It's not that they're a better team," he continued. "We were afraid. We gave them the game. It must be 'the holiday or something,' he added, shaking his head.

The only offense PHS could point to was an unassisted goal by middy Mark Campbell in the second period. Defensively, Keith Rendall had another outstanding game in the goal for PHS, being credited with 14 saves, many of them spectacular.

"He has a good game everytime. I'd be a 100 to 1 otherwise," snapped Trotman.

Pingry Scores Early. Pingry scored after the game was only six seconds old when Sandy White took the opening faceoff and ran right down and scored unassisted. The visitors, who won their second game in five starts, added two more goals in the first period.

PHS has 13 days in which to regroup and, as Trotman put it in a huddle, "to make up its mind it is going to play as a team." The Little Tigers will be idle until May 2 when they play Hun. The Pingry loss dropped their record to 2-3.

OFF TO SLOW START

For PDS Girls in Lacrosse. Girls' lacrosse got off to a slow start last week at Princeton Day School, as varsity dropped its opener to George School 6-2 and the junior varsity played a pair of ties.

The varsity couldn't get started against George, and goals by Sandy Gordon and Debbie Dobkowski weren't enough to close the gap.

Alyssa Oxley scored four of the jayvees' five goals last week. The first two, combined with a score by Kip Herrick, produced a 3-3 tie with the George junior varsity. She scored a pair in a 2-2 tie with Bournemouth School, of Bournemouth, England.

GIRLS SOFTBALL SPLITS

At PHS for 3-2 Record. The Princeton High School girls softball team split in two outings last week to increase its won-lost record to 3-2.

The team, which has already improved on last year's 2-11 record, defeated Franklin Township, 5-4, but lost another squeaker to Allentown, 10-9. Sue Wright is the pitcher.

Other members of the team include Pam Bernsten, Janet Helms, Sue Wright, Mary Pesce, Jeanne Stifel, "Stretch" Cortel, Kathy Froehlich, "Mel" Froehlich, Anne Roberts, Debbie Brichaust and Martha Dorgan. Donald Ringkamp, PHS guidance director, is the coach.

HOPFIELD, PORTES FIRST

In Lake Carnegie Racing. Ideal weather prevailed Sunday for the Carnegie Sailing Club's fourth week of spring series races.

Fourteen boats competed in the Sunfish class, with John Hopfield winning top honors, taking three firsts in five races. Tad LaFountain finished second and Dick Hill third. Five Lasers squared off against each other, with Peter Portes coming in first, Bob Holzman second, and Ed Metcalf third.

With the spring season one-third completed, the standings in the two fleets are: in the Sunfish John Hopfield, first; Tad LaFountain second; Walt Gibson third; in the Lasers, Bob Holzman, first, and Ed Metcalf, second.

Capt. Robin Kraut, playing number one singles, took two 6-1 sets from her opponent, and Patti Seale, at number two, and Glenna Weisberg, at third singles, each won 6-0, 6-1.

Doubles was a different story. Shelly Gordon and Louriz Savage had to scramble to capture a 7-5, 7-5 win, while Nancy Kendall and Liz Pratt suffered PDS' only loss in second doubles, 1-6, 3-6.

The PDS jayvees had a little more trouble, eking out a 3-2 victory over Gerge.

PHS NETMEN ROLL ON

Ewing Falls, 5-0. When the Princeton High School tennis team defeated Ewing last week, it was the Little Tigers fourth consecutive 5-0 victory in a row.

Coach Bill Humes' rampaging netmen will be idle until Tuesday when they play host to strong Christian Brothers Academy in a 3:45 match. The following day, PHS will be at Lawrence in a return match.

Against Ewing, Dick Broad, number one singles, breezed through his match, but David Low was forced to play two tie-breakers in the number two singles match. He won both, 7-6, 7-6. Rob McDouglad, playing in his first singles match, won, 6-4, 6-1.

Nick van DeWalle teamed with Randy Thomas to win the number one doubles, 6-2, 6-2. PHS' record is 5-1.

DELAWARE VALLEY NEXT

For PHS Girls Track Team. The Princeton High School girls track team will try to keep on the winning side of the won-lost column as it has so far this season when it goes against Delaware Valley Wednesday in its next meet.

In its most recent outing, coach Lamont Fletcher's squad defeated Pennsbury, Pa., 58-42. Karen Herzog was a double winner, taking the hurdles and long jump events. From the 100-dash through the mile, PHS was perfect.

Dini Bullock won the 100, Gracie McEwen the 220, Karen Winn the 440, Kathy Woodbridge the 880 and Diane Westover the mile. Debbie Brooks finished second in both the shot and discus.

Sports In Princeton

PHS Wins First, 2-0. A sparkling two-hitter by John Mooney Tuesday propelled the Princeton High School baseball team to its first victory of the season over visiting Trenton High School.

The junior southpaw struck out five, walked two and drove in Princeton's first run in the first with a sacrifice fly after Mike Carlucci had tripled. While Mooney supplied the pitching, Carlucci provided the power. He doubled home Princeton's other run in the fifth after Mike Diamond had also doubled.

In all, PHS rapped out nine hits, including a pair of singles by first baseman Steve Kupp. Also connecting for singles were Mooney, Jeff Galle, Bobby King and Wray Blattner.

The Tornadoes came closest to scoring in the third. Their threat was snuffed out, however, when Blattner fired a strike from third to catcher Bob Zinsmeister to nip the runner at the plate.

TIGERS TOP LAFAYETTE

Leopards Edged, 3 to 2. John Cullinane, fleet-footed Princeton infielder, may hold a unique mark in the Tiger record book: four times already this season, he has stolen third and then reached home on a catcher's throw into left field.

Cullinane gave the Orange and Black its first run that way against Lafayette Tuesday, and it eventually proved to be the difference in a 3-2 victory. In all, he has 17 stolen bases this spring, and that, too, may be a new high. Princeton records have not been kept in depth over the years.

After Cullinane tallied in the fourth, the Tigers added a pair in the sixth. Steve Brown singled, advanced to third on Pete Korsan's hit to right and Brown crossed the plate when the double steal worked because the Lafayette catcher dropped the relay. Korsan took third on the error and came home when the Leopards' pitcher bobbled Tony Riposta's roller toward first.

All Princeton runs were unearned, and so were the losers'. They got one in the eighth, after Steve Crandall lost his no-hitter and Randy Blevins replaced him, and narrowed the gap in the ninth on a triple and pair relay before Blevins fanned the last hitter. The Tigers head for the Harvard-Dartmouth weekend with a 9-10 mark.

TRACKMEN LOSE, 71-60

To Notre Dame. About a half dozen members of the Princeton High School track team were away on Easter vacation Monday and the Little Tigers lost a close, 71-60 meet to Notre Dame. The loss dropped PHS to 1-4, while ND, the home team, won its third against four setbacks.

PHS swept the shot with Bill Alexander claiming first with a toss of 46-9. Lou Drury was second at 44-9 and Tom Bart, a freshman, third at 35-9. Drury won the discus with a throw of 135-11, and placed second in the 100-yard dash with 10.6—his best time of the season. The Irish's John Taylor won it in 10.2.

John Woodside remained unbeaten in the mile with a clocking of 4:48.2. Mike Coda captured the 880 (2:11.8) and Mark McLean won the pole vault with a leap of 10-6, tying his best effort. He also jumped 5-8 to place second in the high jump. It was his best jump of the season.

Richard Guzy took the javelin and finished third in the discus. Co-captain Craig Carlton came in second in both the high hurdles and 440. Peter Schwartz, a sophomore, earned his first point of the season with a third-place finish in the mile.

PDS WINS THIRD

In Lacrosse. The Ferrante brothers, Cam and Grayson combined to lead the Princeton victory of the season Monday. Day Lacrosse team to its third win of the season Monday, a 3-2 triumph over the Lawrenceville varsity "B" squad.

Played mostly in the rain, which quickly produced a muddy field, the game was a defensive battle most of the way. Cam Ferrante got two of the goals an Grayson picked up the other one for the victorious Panthers, who have lost just once this season.

This Wednesday, the Blue and White was scheduled to play Rutgers Prep away. Friday it will be home for a game with Mountville High School.

Major Sports Honor for Van Arsdalen

Norman C. Van Arsdalen, personable athletic director at Princeton High School, has a new hat to add to his collection and it's a big one.

Van Arsdalen has been named 34th president of the International Association of Approved Basketball Officials, the largest basketball officiating organization in the world. "It's a fine honor for me and for basketball in New Jersey. I'm really proud about it," he said.

Although his new position will involve much travel and public relations work for the IAABO, Van Arsdalen said it would not interfere with his work at PHS.

His career in officiating began two decades ago, when he started to referee high school basketball games. In the intervening years, he has not only become a well-known high school basketball and football official, but has also become one of the East's top referees in college basketball. Two weeks ago, he was elected second vice-president of the College Basketball Officials Association.

Manakas to Atlanta

The Atlanta Hawks have drafted Ted Manakas, captain of Princeton's basketball team during the past season. The six-foot guard, All-Ivy and All-East, was a third round choice in the NBA selection process, and was expected to be picked in the ABA draft on Wednesday.

A fine ball-handler, a good outside shot with a field goal average above 50% and a top defensive player, Manakas has all the attributes of a solid backcourt man. He is a member of Princeton's exclusive "1,000 Point Club," going into four figures for his career more than a month before the 1973 season ended.

UJB INCOME LOWERED

By Securities Transactions. United Jersey Banks has reported a 10 percent per share increase in income before securities transactions for the first quarter of 1973. The statewide, multibank holding company, of which First National Bank of Princeton is a member, posted income before security transactions of $2,928,000, $.55 a share, through March 31, compared with $2,674.00, $.50 per share for last year.

However, net income, after losses of $27,000 (after tax effect) from the sale of securities, declined almost two percent on a per share basis to $2,973,000 $.56 per share for first quarter 1973, from $2,973,00 $.56 per share for the same period in 1972.

UJB also reported total assets rose close to 31 percent from a year ago, and deposits increased 21 percent from last year. Total loans of banking subsidiaries increased 3 percent.

Commented Edward A. Jesser, Jr., UJB Chairman, "UJB earnings were good for the first quarter of 1973—despite certain unfavorable money market developments which have been publicized widely. Historically, the early months of each year see generally lower deposit totals than the later months of the year.

"To make up for this, we borrow funds from the money markets. The current rates are not only higher than a year ago, but the prime lending rate has not been allowed to move up correspondingly, resulting in the cost of short term funds being in excess of interest rates on short term loans.

"Additionally, rates paid on certificates of deposit have increased rapidly, narrowing the subsequent return from this source of funds. This has slowed our earnings growth for the first quarter."

UJB is awaiting approval from the Federal Reserve to acquire the $9.3 million deposit, Par-Troy State Bank in Parsippany-Troy Hills, Morris County. UJB has also applied to form three de-novo banks that would become UJB members in 1973.

News Of The CHURCHES

MERGER TALKS HELD

Continue for Presbyterians. Two of Princeton's three Presbyterian churches are continuing to discuss a union. First Presbyterian Church, with about 1,700 members, and St. Andrew's, with 700, will hold meetings this Sunday to consider possible merger.

In a vote taken last month, Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church chose not to continue the discussions. "Our congregation felt we would be swallowed up, that we'd lose our identity," said Rev. Floyd Rhodes of the Witherspoon Church after that vote.

Now First Presbyterian and St. Andrew's are considering the merger possibility by themselves. Final votes will be taken May 13 in congregational meetings at the two churches.

Two-thirds of those present at the meetings must approve the merger proposal. In last month's referendum to continue the discussions, First Church approved by a margin of 304-81; St. Andrew's by 95-15.

Church officials will not predict the outcome of the final vote. But enough confidence of its success has been generated that members of First Presbyterian Church have been asked to submit suggestions for a name for the proposed united church.

Sunday's discussion at First Presbyterian Church will be between morning services, from 9:45-10:45. St. Andrew's will meet following its 10 a.m. service.

EASTER SERVICE SET

For Eastern Orthodox Church. The Eastern Orthodox Church, which determines the date of Easter so that it always follows Passover as a recognition of the historical debt of Christianity to Judaism, will celebrate Easter this year in a service beginning at 11:30 p.m. Saturday. The service will be held in the Marquand Transept of the Princeton University Chapel.

Reverend Professors George Florovsky and John Turkevich will lead the service as celebrants. The choral ensemble will be directed by Reverend Deacon Daniel J. Skvir.

The service will open with the chanting of the Grand Complin of Holy Saturday, the last Lenten service. The hymns of the canon of the service will be sung in the Znamenyi Monsatic chant.

Then a procession will move to the door of the transept, where the Resurrection will be announced before the closed door. The procession will enter the transept to the chanting of "Christ Is Risen," and Easter Matins will be chanted.

Hymns of Easter will be sung in the arrangement of the Ukrainian composer, A. L. Vedel. The matins will conclude with the reading of the Easter sermon of St. John Chrysostom of Constantinople. The Divine Liturgy will follow.

WHERE

But at COUNTRY ANTIQUES

can you find . . .

A large and very fine bucket with iron handle. Over a hundred years old and in excellent condition.

A French iron rack for drying wine bottles. Has early look of brass.

18th century revolving iron broiler as seen in Wallace Nutting.

A pine candle box and Shaker bat-tery box.

A Maxwell Parrish print, unusual and scarce in original frame, "Sun Up," 1915, it depicts a house and barn with reflection in a lake or body of water with large trees in background. Wonderful blues, yellows and greens. Definitely the early period.

"The Daughters of the Stars," by Mary Crary, colored plates by Duloc. This is a little brown and rare book.

First editions of "Wind in the Willows," "Child's Garden of Verse," and "Songs of Childhood" as well as some limited editions of same.

Coverlets and quilts. Never had such a variety and at such a range of prices. All unique, good condition and beautiful. Four are dated. All are identifiable in coverlet and quilt books.

We say with all sincerity that these coverlets are usually priced double at other shops. A real bonus to antique shows.

Two 18th century French chairs.
